Stanhope airshow rescheduled to July 12

Jerry Zimmer on his homebuilt gyrocopter

Although bad weather threatened to ruin the Stanhope Airshow for the second consecutive year, cooperation from the pilots made what little show there was, enjoyable.

With overcast skies and low visibility mixed with occasional showers many of the acts which were scheduled to attend could not make it.

"We had wonderful cooperation from Al Hauff (Pitts Special), Jerry Zimmer (gyro copter) and the boys from the Armed Forces," Stanhope Airport committee chairman, Stan Moore said Monday.

Unfortunately the Toronto Parachute Club was unable to open the ceremonies with a jump and Nick Daniels with his Citabria, Bogdon Wolski and the Short Take-Off and Landing (STOL) Wilga and Dennis Bradley with the Corsair could not make it to the fly-in.

In spite of the condition, Al Hauff gave a crowd-pleasing aerobatic demonstration with the Pitts Special. His snap rolls and hammer head stalls kept necks strained and eyes peeled.

The Canadian Armed Forces, with its team of three helicopters kept the crowd interested with maneuvers, formation flying and powerful passes in the immediate airshow area.

One of the outstanding performances of the day, was an amazing aerobatic performance by Carl Bunder in a glider.

Zimmer entertained the surprising large crowd, considering the weather, with his Benson home-built gyro copter.

Also adding to the day's festivities was an aerobatic performance by John Schultz in a small but powerful Hughes 500 helicopter.

The airport committee is now planning another airshow for the afternoon of July 12 to compensate for the small show caused by poor weather.

"The crowd that was there proves there is a real need for it," Moore said.

The committee will be trying to arrange for some of the same performers as well as other new acts to fill the agenda at the next airshow.

Decision on hiring angers 180 Glamorgan ratepayers

by Sue Cooper

The ratepayers of Glamorgan Township have a 180-signature strong petition maintaining that a local resident should have been hired for the recently filled road superintendent's position. One township councillor, Bob McCausland has also signed the petition.

Bradley MacDuff, a township road worker who applied for the job, said Monday night the petition would be presented to council at its regular meeting last night (Tuesday).

The ratepayers petition states that a man from the municipality should fill the position, instead of a non-resident.

"I'm not looking forward to it (the council meeting), because to try and straighten this thing out will be quite a problem," Glamorgan reeve Robert Fotheringham said Monday.

The matter arose when the former road overseer, James Manley resigned several weeks ago.

Subsequently, council advertised the road superintendent position in the Toronto Star, Peterborough Examiner and Haliburton County Echo newspapers.

When applications were received, three local men had applied for the position. According to MacDuff, two interviews were conducted, one with local resident Vince Billings and the other with the successful applicant Edward Bryan.

Fotheringham said he would not comment as to whether the applicants had previous experience with the local township.

MacDuff said the hiring of a non-resident was not the only reason the community is up in arms. He said the former road superintendent had received a salary of $12,500 per year while the newly-employed Bryan would be paid $17,500.

"You know that's not fair to the public here, we can't afford that $17,500," he said.

MacDuff, 35, has been employed by the township road department for more than eight years and has been acting supervisor since the road overseer resigned. He also has filled in, in the past, when the superintendent was on holidays or ill.

MacDuff, said he had applied for the job at $12,500 while the other two local applicants had asked for $14,000 and $14,500.

Bryan, 23, of Keene, Ontario, has worked as a road employee for another municipality, has attended the Guelph road school course and is experienced in the operation and maintenance of road equipment, according to his resume.

Although he is scheduled to begin work on June 25, the by-law to hire him as a municipal employee has not yet been passed. However, a motion acknowledging the

Stanhope wins drop in insurance rates

Faced with the threat of losing Stanhope Township's insurance coverage account to a less expensive company, Frank Cowan Insurance Company has dropped its premium almost $700 over last year.

The insurance policy covering the township property, including the airport, township employees while on the job and the fire department cost the township $9,339 in the 1979 fiscal year.

After a lengthy discussion, insurance company representative Robert Cowan gave the council a quotation of $8,650 for this year's policy which includes some extended coverage areas.

OME Insurance Brokers, who are preparing quotations for many municipalities in Ontario in hopes of breaking Cowan's hold of 83 percent of the municipal accounts in the province, estimated Stanhope's policy would be approximately $6,300 without the airport liability coverage which the company would not handle.

With the lower policy being available, council strongly questioned Cowan's policy.

Although he could give no statistics as to why his company's premiums were much higher, Cowan told council that Frank Cowan Insurance Co. has given the township personal service in the past.

West Guilford marks completion of new centre

West Guilford will be holding its first dance in the village's newly renovated community centre, this Saturday night.

On hand for the ribbon cutting ceremonies will be Ken Sawyer, who completed most of the work on the building, Dysart et al reeve Murray Fearrey, and Victoria-Haliburton MPP John Eakins.

The former public school in West Guilford has been completely renovated to provide the area with the new centre.

Upstairs, the classrooms have been removed, and a

Minden agrees to take on ministry over road repairs

Anson, Hindon and Minden council has agreed to take legal action against the Ontario Ministry of the Environment unless the ministry brings Minden streets back to the condition they were in before sewer work began.

Last Wednesday, council approved the contents of a letter drafted by the municipality's solicitor, Fraser Rogers, outlining claims against the ministry, "as a result of damages caused to municipal streets and Water Tower Access Road."

The letter notes that council, on a number of occasions, has pressed the ministry "to return the condition of the streets to the same standard as the roadways and streets were in prior to the commencement of the installation of the sewage system and which condition was guaranteed at the time construction was commenced."

The municipality has also "requested that the access road to the water storage tank be brought up to the standards as required by the Ministry of Transportation and Communications and to date this matter has not been corrected by your ministry, although again this was a specific condition of the contract."

Unless the necessary steps are taken to correct the problems council has "no recourse but to seek legal action in order to enforce the conditions of the contract with your ministry," the letter states.

Rogers also notes that "in my opinion, it would not be in the interest of either your ministry or of my client to pursue a legally enforced settlement of this matter," and that "it is hoped ... this matter may be resolved directly between the parties involved."

Council decided the letter should be sent directly to the Ministry of the Environment, with copies to ministry official William Marshall, contractor R.V. Anderson, engineers, Totten, Sims, Hubicki Associates, and MPP John Eakins.

Commercial, residential mill rates down for municipal spending, up for education

Little change in Monmouth budget

Taxpayers in Monmouth will find almost no change in the municipal and county portion of their property taxes this year. Total taxes will be up, however, as a result of an approximate $12,229 increase in the township's contributions to the Board of Education budget.

Municipal portion of the 1980 budget is $276,118 up $19,899 from the $246,436 spent in 1979. However because of an increase in assessment along with provincial subsidies for transportation and other expenditures included in the budget, a large surplus from 1979 and other municipal revenues, the municipal mill rates are down fractionally.

The commercial mill rate has been set 446 compared to 448 in 1979. The residential mill rate is 379 compared to 381 for 1979.

The county levy of $18,904 will result in a rate of 87 mills for commercial compared to 88 mills in 1979, and a residential rate of 74 mills, the same as last year.

In the category of general government the 1980 budget calls for expenditures totalling $58,287 up from the 1979 $49,342 spent last year. Along with slight increase in salaries and other expenses, this category includes election expenses and land purchases which did not appear in last year's budget.

Transportation costs are $87,087 compared to $93,073 for 1979. Included in this category is $80,087 for roadways compared to $90,404 for 1979, which included a supplementary subsidy item. The provincial government subsidizes road expenditures at 75 percent. Street lighting is set at $7,000 compared to $2,669 spent last year. The figure includes a provision for the installation of some new street lights.

Environmental services have been set at $5500, compared to $4092, spent in 1979. Increased costs are due to a Ministry of the Environment request that dump sites be covered more often.

Health services are down in the 1980 budget at $2050, compared to $4166, spent last year. Last year's expenditure included the purchase of new mowers for the cemeteries.

In the category of social and family services the 1980 budget has been set at $23,000 compared to $18,023 spent in 1979. The provincial government subsidized $20,000 of these expenditures at 80 percent.

Spending is up in the category of recreation and culture. The new budget calls for expenditures of $66,194 compared to $57,523 spent in 1979. The increase includes provision for drainage work at the arena and lighting for the ball park and tennis courts.

Spending for the protection to persons and property has been set at $30,000. Under the heading of fire, the 1980 budget has been set at $20,000 compared to $6,485 spent in 1979. Part of the surplus included a 5,000 reserve for fire. The increase is due to a roof repair and the purchase of a tanker truck. Protective inspection and control has been set at $10,000 compared to $4,780.

Wintario will fund Glamorgan centre

Steps are now begin taken to finalize plans for the Glamorgan community centre since Wintario has reversed its earlier decision to refuse funding for the project.

Glamorgan deputy-reeve, Ken Maguire said Monday a delegation had spoken to a culture and recreation ministry representative in Toronto three weeks ago and had since received a letter giving the project the go-ahead.

Final notification of funding arrangements will be forthcoming once preliminary plans have been submitted for approval, he said.

The total cost of the project has been estimated at approximately $212,917. A grant of $84,843.87 has been requested from Wintario and community and recreation grants should total about $53,229.25. Private sector donations have been set at $44,922 and the tax portion of the project will be $39,921.87.

Presently the architectural firm of Campens, Greer Galloway is preparing the final plans for the building which is to be 62 feet by 67 feet and located on the west side of the ball diamond in the municipal park in the village of Gooderham.

Wintario funding was refused when it was first requested because no construction had been started in 1979. Maguire said the township had been unaware that construction work on the centre had to start in 1979 to make the project eligible.

Maguire said the feasibility study which was requested before the project could go ahead, also held up construction last year.

"We're hoping to break ground before the first of September," he said.

Glamorgan

acceptance of his application has been passed by council.

MacDuff said the additional experience Bryan had gained by attending the Guelph Road School should not have landed him the job. He explained that the advertisement stated only that the successful applicant must be willing to attend the school.

"They call this a depressed area and say that the welfare is bad here; well, if they had hired me as road superintendent, another guy could have taken my place and it would have made two jobs, MacDuff said.

"I really don't want the job now...it's just not fair to the guys who live right here in town," he added.

Fotheringham, who appeared to agree with the petition, Monday, said "when the road superintendent resigned, I told my council that whoever they appointed, to appoint someone in our own local area."

While the reeve was hesitant to speak on the matter until the council meeting, and his deputy reeve, Ken Maguire, refused to comment on the hiring, Fotheringham said the new road superintendent did not necessarily have to be a local resident to qualify for the job.

"It's been council's talk around here that they're just about in tears over it. They figure something's going to happen over it and well, I don't see why it wouldn't," MacDuff said.

The council meeting was still progress when the paper went to press, so the outcome was not yet known.

In questioning the policy, council discovered that coverage has been extended to cover fire department pumpers trucks in the event of freezing.

Council had been unaware of the coverage and since its own pumper had frozen this winter, Cowan said the township's $600 claim would probably be approved if it was submitted. The coverage was extended to all municipalities because many pumpers had frozen and no coverage had existed previously, Cowan said.

new hardwood dance floor has been installed in their place.

Carol Stamp of West Guilford, said Monday, money was raised locally with a giant flea market, dances, bingo and other activities. As well, the ladies of the local Golden Age Group made a quilt to be raffled off for the centre.

"It's really been a community effort," she said.

These toys and dolls, now on display at the Rail's End Gallery in Haliburton, should appeal to any age. Included in the exhibition, which runs until June 28, are antique dolls, dolls from foreign lands, old-fashioned dolls and toys created from lively imaginations. Spending for zoning and planning has been set at $4,000, down from last year's expenditure of $8,952. Last year saw the finalization of the municipality's restricted area by-law.

Ratepayers who want to take a closer look at the township's revenues and planned expenditures can examine the 1980 budget at the municipal office.

The show has drawn large crowds in each of the previous three years, and this year's offering is expected to be no exception.

Show vice chairman Paul Dawson said Tuesday that more than 50 exhibitors will be on hand throughout the three-day show. Over $1 million dollars worth of merchandise will be displayed in booths on the floor of the Dysart Community Centre.

Included will be hot tubs, pools, major appliances, organs, automobiles, plants, snowmobiles, boats, motors, custom cupboards, crafts, chainsaws, wood stoves, displays from local lumber yards, televisions and stereos, antique cars, undercoating, flowers, log construction tools, photography and a host of other items.

Free draws will take place throughout the weekend, with the draw for $1000 worth of merchandise slated for 2 p.m. on Sunday.

A dance will cap Saturday's activities to the music of a disc jockey. A special occasion permit has been obtained.

The show opens at noon Friday and continues through 9 p.m. Saturday, the doors will open at 10 a.m. and close at 9 p.m., and on Sunday, the show will be open from noon to 4 p.m.

Stanhope gets subsidy from MTC

Stanhope Township has received a $20,000 subsidy allocation from the Ministry of Transportation and Communications.

The money received for the 1980 subsidy must be used for expenditures that comply with MTC policy, according to a letter received by council.

Stanhope's total subsidy allocation was $115,500 for construction, $49,900 for maintenance of township roads for a total of $165,400.

Minden to begin work toward BIA board later this month

by Sue Cooper

Before the end of this month Anson, Hindon and Minden council will be starting to form a board of management for the town of Minden business improvement area (BIA), according to councillor Stuart Brandon.

Brandon said Monday that council wants to have the board ready to function at the end of a 60-day waiting period that is now in progress. Council passed a by-law at a May meeting designating the BIA and if no objections are made within the required 60-day waiting period, refurbishing of the downtown area will proceed.

If objections to the by-law are submitted from any of the 53 businesses in the designated area, they will go before council and if it deems them reasonable an Ontario Municipal Board hearing would have to be held on the matter.

The only possible stumbling block in the way of the BIA project is that the village may not qualify for low interest loans from the provincial government.

Brandon said council has requested an exemption from a Ministry of Housing regulation requiring an official plan of the town site to qualify for the loans. Since the village is included in the county planning strategy council is hoping the ministry will accept this document instead of a costly official plan.

Brandon said if the village does not qualify for the loans it would not stop the project. However, it would slow the project down considerably.

"The loans program just lets you do it all at once. If we don't qualify, then we can do a little at a time," he explained.

In conjunction with the BIA project, Brandon attended the Ontario Renewals seminar in Toronto for three days last week. The five day event focussed on downtown revitalization, urban renewal, historical preservation and many different improvement ideas pertaining to both cities and small communities.

"It was extremely well done," he said. The seminars were sponsored by the Ministry of Housing and HUDAC, a housing standards group.

Brandon said he attended seminars including street scaping and an interesting presentation by a man from the United States who spoke on how to revitalize a store front for under $300. Speakers from across Canada and the U.S. talked about the problems and the benefits they had experienced in their own communities while establishing an improvement area.

Brandon said the seminar gave an "all-round" perspective of the business improvement areas and downtown revitalization projects.

Minden agrees to consider rec. director with Dysart

Anson, Hindon and Minden council has agreed to discuss a joint recreation director with Dysart et al.

At a meeting last Wednesday, council agreed the municipalities should consider sharing the cost and services of a recreation director.

Dysart et al council and the Dysart recreation committee recently met with a representative of the Ministry of Culture and Recreation to discuss the concept and have formed a joint committee to examine recreation programs in other areas of the province.

Nesbitt saw the possibility as a positive one that could lead to other joint ventures. "There probably are a lot of things that we could do if we could work together," Nesbitt said.

ed, it will mark the first time the municipalities have shared a project.

Nesbitt said he attended seminars including street scaping and an interesting presentation by a man from the United States who spoke on how to revitalize a store front for under $300. Council to seek MOE help over water deficit

Following a closed-door session with its auditors, Anson, Hindon and Minden council has decided to approach the Ontario Ministry of the Environment for help in reducing the deficit of the Minden water system.

Peter Carroll and Robert Huisman of McGillivray and Co. met with council last Wednesday to outline how the approximately $30,000 deficit arose in 1979.

Reeve Sinc Nesbitt said in an interview Monday that the debt is primarily interest charges stemming from extensions to the village's water system and the construction of the reservoir.

The work is planned six years before the ministry carried it out, resulting in substantially higher costs and an increased burden of interest on the municipality, which must reimburse the ministry for a portion of the cost over a period of years.

Nesbitt said council will meet with the ministry to discuss the situation, and will argue that the village should not have to suffer for the fact that their was a six-year gap between planning for the project, and the work itself.

He said the ministry will be asked either to reduce the interest charges and spread them over a longer period, or to reimburse the municipality for the present deficit in the form of a grant.

There was no indication as to how soon council representatives would be able to meet with ministry officials.

Cold snap continues

Unseasonably cold weather continued to plague the Highlands over the past week. Lowest temperature recorded over the period of June 9-16 was -3C, which set a record for the date, but didn't break the all-time low of -4.4C set in 1972.

Rainfall over the period totalled 15 mm. Hail on June 9 reached a depth of one inch in some areas. Last Tuesday, June 10, up to half a centimetre of snow fell in northern areas of the county, a rare occurrence for June.

Although the risk of frost remained high Monday and Tuesday, a warming trend is predicted for the balance of the week, according to the area climatologist.

Right reasons and wrong reasons

Glamorgan Township council and the township's ratepayers seemed poised for a conflict Tuesday night, the outcome of which will have ramifications for all local municipal councils. At the heart of the controversy is an apparent decision by council to hire a roads superintendent who at the moment, happens to be a resident of Keene, Ontario. Council advertised the position in the Echo, the Toronto Star and the Peterborough Examiner, and made a decision on who to hire after all the submitted resumes had been considered. The fact that a member of the road crew was overlooked for the position has drawn the ire of many ratepayers, prompting a petition with close to 180 signatures.

Impetus for the petition is the entrenched assumption that municipalities should hire local people for municipal jobs. Taken at face value, the position is certainly valid. If two people with identical qualifications are seeking the same job, and if one of them lives in the area, he or she probably should be hired. But the choice of who to hire to fill any position in any municipality must be made purely on the basis of qualifications.

Glamorgan council has a responsibility to hire a road overseer whose qualifications and experience best meet the municipality's needs. His place of residence should not enter into the picture.

If, by their petition, the ratepayers are seeking to dictate to council that it must hire local people first, without reference to qualifications, they will be making a serious mistake. If on the other hand, the ratepayers merely want to emphasize that local people deserve neither more nor less than equal opportunity and due consideration, they will be saying the obvious.

Councils are elected to make choices in the best interests of all the people they represent. If that means hiring a road supervisor who at the moment doesn't live in the municipality, council should have the fortitude to live with its decision.

Sustaining the attitude of insularity which animates so much of life in Haliburton County will do no one any good.

Seniors are getting a new image

Already they form a significant proportion of Canadian society, and their numbers will continue to grow. Once viewed simply as the old, they are taking on a new image. Now called senior citizens they are becoming a prominent social force, a demographic reality to be considered by politicians, business, labour, education and the tourist industry.

The image of Canada's senior citizens is changing. And this week represents a part of that change. Declared senior citizens week, it is a time to recognize not only the past accomplishments of those over 60, but the potential for growth, improvement and service to the community their numbers represent.

The changing Canadian attitude toward the elderly is evidence as much of a return to an earlier view as of a move forward into new understanding. In many of the world's cultures, the old are venerated. They are cherished as the embodiment of wisdom and spiritual strength, as the possessors of insight born of long and often harsh experience. Yet too many Canadians have lost that view. In a society geared to youthfulness, where merely being young has been elevated to the status of a virtue, to grow old has all too often meant to be shunned and forgotten. Yet youth, like old age, is merely a fact of the human condition, the one no more avoidable than the other.

Society has not lost its fascination with youthfulness, or the illusions that surround it, but it is beginning to realize that there can be virtue in old age, too.

Most of those who today call themselves senior citizens have faced difficulties and challenges people in their 20's and 30's can only imagine. Today's seniors lived through years when the basics of food and shelter could not be taken for granted, when the need to survive rather than the urge to possess dominated daily life.

The challenges of the past are gone of course, but the struggle to live with fixed incomes and in the face of indifference remains all too real for many of Canada's seniors.

If Canadians are to build a stronger society, we must continue to bring senior citizens from the fringes of our daily life into their rightful place in its mainstream. We must allow their wisdom and experience to enrich the pattern of society. We must educate the young if not to venerate the old, at least to respect them.

Canada's senior citizens can continue to make valuable contributions to society in the same way they always have, if society is willing to give them a chance.

The rise of senior citizens as a social force is a welcome change. It may give many Canadians the push they need into a new way of seeing what it means to grow old.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

To the Editor:

I very much object to the way the writeup on high school exemption from exams is written up; implying that only these students are brilliant enough to be exempted. There is no mention made that 66 percent is all the person must make to be exempted and that the person must not have missed the first exam in any subject or 15 1/2 days of school.

My congratulations go to those students who have much higher marks, but are forced to write even though they have caught up and still make honours or are tops in their class in marks. Even with a doctor's certificate, no exceptions are made, which this year, especially with the measles so rampant, is very unfair as they have had to work even harder and should not be penalized.

Sincerely,
Lorna Hicks,
R.R. #1, Minden, Ont.

To the Editor:

On behalf of St. Anthony's Church Building Committee, I would like to express our deep sense of gratitude to the members of St. George's Anglican Church Choir and St. Anthony's Children's Choir for the wonderful concert they performed this past Friday evening on our behalf. Special thanks are extended to Mr. Bill Gliddon, St. George's Choir Director, Marina Pearsell, St. Anthony's Choir Director, and to trumpet soloist Craig Thompson of the United Church. Their combined efforts made this concert an enlightening experience for all who attended.

The spirit of Christian community effort extended by St. George's on our behalf is deeply appreciated.

Yours truly,
J. Paul Morissette,
Chairman,
St. Anthony's Church Building Committee

To the Editor:

Every individual and every province had to pay a price to be Canadian. The trouble is the French don't want to pay the price. They want the benefits but the non-French majority are supposed to learn French, fight the wars and foot the bill.

Can you imagine what a country this would be without them? No Trudeau in government. No language trouble; no more billions for Quebec. The benefits are endless.

This language stupidity has got to stop. Let the French pay the price of being Canadian or immigrate to France.

Tell your provincial premier, it's your future.
Sincerely,
A.H. Bell,

Bill Gilbert, Tourism and Industry consultant, was on hand at the recent meeting of the Thousand Islands Chamber of Commerce and he brought with him a bit of advice for tourist operators in this area.

Among the facts he brought to light were a series of problems tourist operators will have to face in the coming decade.

As a matter of fact, economic factors indicate that the eighties are going to be a difficult decade economically from many standpoints and this "hard times" situation will definitely have an effect on tourism.

Mr. Gilbert suggested that gasoline shortages, a projected inflation rate of approximately 12 percent, a change in character of the tourist and a broad range of choice of tourist spots for travellers are among the factors that will have to be considered locally.

Mr. Gilbert had some suggestions for tourist operators who will have to attract the new kind of tourist and he suggested the use of travel agents, package tours, entertainment, convention facilities, sports activities, group tours and the acceptance of credit cards as possible means of improving the tourist business.

Local people hoping to continue to garner tourist income in this area should heed the warning in his words.

The travelling tourist is quickly becoming a bargain hunter out of necessity and the attraction of package tours is obvious. With the responsibility for travel and fuel left to someone else, this kind of travel will become as popular in a still-pampered North America as it is in Europe where gasoline has been scarce and expensive for years.

It is going to take a change in attitude among tourist operators.

First of all, they are going to have to work together, rather than just as competitors. To make packages more attractive to the potential tourist buyer, operators will have to work out discounts and the trading off of business among businesses operating related tourist outlets.

In addition, the approach to entertainment, both by business and by municipalities seeking tourist dollars, is going to have to be more creative.

There will have to be varied entertainment, the availability of services and a concerted effort made to create a tourist business that expands into all four seasons.

All of these factors have been discussed in this area in the past and they have certainly found

Our congratulations this week to the Kinsmen Club of Haliburton who have worked hard, day and night, for the past several months preparing for the 4th Annual Highland Home and Vacation Show which is scheduled for the Dysart Community Centre in Haliburton this coming Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 20, 21 and 22. This is certainly a big event in the community each year and it's a thing that just doesn't happen, it takes months of preparation and the Kinsmen Club deserve a great deal of credit for their efforts. Each year this show is a big hit with all those who attend and from what we can gather, this year's big event will be no exception. There will be exhibitors from around the county with several coming from outside and there will be well over $1,000.00 in merchandise on display. You can count on lots of free draws and you won't want to miss the big dance on Saturday night. This is another community project sponsored by the Kinsmen Club of Haliburton and one that is deserving of your support.

Mrs. Ruth Gorrie, principal of the Victoria Street School in Haliburton gave a very interesting talk to the members of the Rotary Club of Haliburton at one of their regular meetings held recently at the United Church. Mrs. Gorrie who has been teaching for thirty years spoke to a very attentive audience as she outlined the new Early Identification program in kindergarten where each child is put through a thirty minute test that should tell the teachers of each child's strong points and weak points. Jim Leworthy, Business Administrator for the Haliburton County Board of Education was also a guest and showed an audio replay on TV of Chris Greenfield taking the test from his teacher, Mrs. Bonnie Walling.

On the subject of roller skating we would like to mention here that Rollertek (roller skating to disco music) is underway again this year at the Haliburton Curling Rink and at the present time it's every Wednesday, Friday and Saturday evenings from 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. Art Ward who operates Rollertek, would like to remind all students to pick up their pledge sheets for the Rollathon which will be held in aid of Haliburton Minor Hockey on June 22nd from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. From all reports the crowds are bigger than ever this year.

In this country of countless lakes and rivers, our summer season naturally finds thousands of vacationers enjoying the pleasures of water sports and aquatic recreation. For those on holidays at the cottage, beach or resort, the pleasure boat can become as important as the family car. Indeed, Canadians each year make use of approximately one million leisure crafts from canoes and sailboats to large yachts.

While driving home to Haliburton following a business trip to Peterborough one day recently I couldn't help but notice many American flags flying along side our own Canadian flag in front of many business establishments and motels. I spent sometime wondering what on earth Canadian businessmen would be doing flying the American flag. We must remember we are Canadians not Americans and until such time as we join up with the United States we should only be flying our own Canadian flag. Some business people seem to think that it's good for business to fly our neighbours flag. Surely we don't have to stoop this low to create business. Don't get me wrong, I have nothing against our neighbours to the south. I think they are wonderful people but for the life of me, I can't understand why we all have to fly the American flag.

Ernie Voth of Thorold, Ontario will be the guest speaker when the Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship hold their monthly dinner meeting at the Canadian Legion Hall in Haliburton this coming Friday evening, June 20 at 7:00 p.m. Ernie Voth has a Mennonite background, married with four children. He is the president of Goth Tex Ltd. manufacturing sports hosiery. His life is an example of how the Lord is working among businessmen all over the world. Tickets are $5.00 for adults, $3.00 for students and $12.00 for a family.

We learned this week that, to date, some 242 children registered in 18 teams from Tykes (playing T-Ball) to Bantam, are playing in the Haliburton Minor Softball League. Games will be played up until July 30th. The league executive have informed me that additional help is needed from older teenagers or adults and this help would be appreciated to handle this large turnout of boys and girls who want to play ball. If you can help in any way, please contact any coach or Mr. Walt Prime at his office 457-2751 or at his home 457-1378. We urge all parents to please come out to encourage your children while they learn skills of the game, good sportsmanship and have fun.

Harold and Bea Herlihey of Wilberforce have returned home from Chicago after having attended the 75th Anniversary Rotary Convention. It was the tenth anniversary of Harold's year as District Governor.

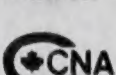

The staff and students of the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School have invited the general public to be present at the 28th annual commencement to be held in the school auditorium this coming Saturday, June 21, 1980 at 7:00 p.m. There will be the presentation of diplomas and a reception for graduates and friends after commencement.

St. George's Annual Parish Family Picnic which had been originally scheduled to be held at Halimar on Sunday, June 8th had to be postponed due to rain. It was held last Sunday, June 15th.

The great Connie Mack once said, "I've seen boys on my baseball team go into slumps and never come out of them, and I've seen others snap right out and come back better than ever." I guess more players lick themselves than are ever licked by an opposing team. The first thing any man has to know is how to handle himself.

Report from Queen's Park

by MPP John Eakins

The Davis government appears to be dragging its feet when it comes to the issue of job creation programs. The current unemployment rate is 7.6 percent, and figures show that in May, 337,000 people in Ontario were without jobs. This figure has jumped by 61,000 in the past 12 months - the largest annual increase of any province in Canada. It represents 90 percent of the increase in Canada.

The total blame cannot be shifted on the faltering auto industry. We need an industrial strategy - a strategy that will see greater opportunities for Haliburton County. It is sad that so many of our young people in that county are forced to move elsewhere in search of work. While we tend to think that the lack of a DREE program is holding back the industrial possibilities of Haliburton, we must remember that our provincial government has not been a bit generous with its programs.

Perhaps Mr. Grossman and Mr. Miller should make funding available from the Employment Development Fund, such as was made available for an industrial parks program in Muskoka. I intend to concentrate on helping the small businessman in Haliburton, and one day soon, we shall succeed.

Fire Marshal's Office

Opposition leader Stuart Smith has questioned the Ontario Fire Marshal's practice of not investigating fires causing damage under $500,000 unless there are "exceptional reasons".

The Solicitor General reported that this practice was necessitated by a shortage of qualified investigators, although the Fire Marshal blamed a lack of funds, pointing to the government's attempt to hold the line on civil service jobs. There is an abundance of former firemen and policemen willing to train as investigators should funds be allocated, I believe.

Police Bill

A government bill which would have set up a civilian review procedure for citizen complaints against the Metro Toronto Police has been defeated in the legislature.

Opposition parties, while agreeing with the bill in principle, objected to a clause which allowed the police 30 days to resolve a complaint on their own before calling in a civilian commissioner.

Censor Board

The seven members of Ontario's Censor Board will appear before the legislature's administration of justice committee next week to answer questions on the board's procedures.

This move comes in the wake of controversy surrounding the board's demand that the award-winning film, The Tin Drum, be edited for showing. One committee member suggested that members of the board had been threatened with dismissal should they vote against requiring the cuts.

Beer Advertisements

Liberal House Leader Robert Nixon has charged that a lack of firm government policy in the area of beer advertising has led to a 4.3 percent increase in Ontario beer consumption over the past several years. He called for an end to beer advertisements which suggest the beverage will improve one's sex life, athletic prowess and good looks.

Ontario - Your's To Discover

This is the new punch line behind this year's major marketing plan being implemented by the Ministry of Industry and Tourism. Many of you will, by now, have seen the 40 page supplement that was included with the weekend newspapers. This year the ministry is making a concerted effort to encourage people in Ontario to vacation right here in their own back yard, rather than travelling out of the province or the country.

The final two pages of the supplement list the various Ministry publications that are presently available and you will find these books on display, along with Haliburton area books and brochures in the Chamber office, the Haliburton Caboose, and the Cardiff Log School House information centres.

Another part of the Ministry's marketing plan is the Hospitality Seminars. The Ministry sees that the promotional efforts may all be obliterated by the wrong attitude or method of handling customers by owners and employees. To help avoid this problem they are providing these seminars free of charge and the Chamber is pleased to be working with them as the sponsoring body. See the coming events column for specific details.

Grading System

One of the most controversial projects to be introduced by the Ministry of Industry and Tourism for many years is now in the formulation stages. Grading of accommodation facilities is important and considered absolutely necessary to orderly growth of this important industry. It is, however, going to be very difficult to come up with the criteria to allow for a minimum amount of discretionary decisions to be made in deciding on a grade for a given resort.

Tourism Ontario, which has representatives of all the tourist organizations on its board, has taken on the job of setting up the rules and implementing the system on a "pilot" basis to field test it. They are presently seeking input from Resorts Ontario members as to their concerns with the suggested format. It envisages a scale of one to five stars given on the basis of facilities both in the accommodation and on the grounds. Once the policy is set owners will be advised of their rating, and will have adequate time to upgrade where necessary to move them into a higher category.

We hope that anyone being asked for their comments on this project will offer their utmost cooperation, since the final plan will be the result of feedback received from resort owners.

Algonquin Park Five Year Review

Copies of the Ontario Provincial Parks Council Five Year Review for Algonquin Park were received from the Ministry of Natural Resources this week. In it the council presents their recommendations to the ministry, and the Minister, James Auld, provides their response.

At meetings prior to preparing this document briefs were presented by the Municipality of Dysart, the Snowmobile Association, The Chamber, and the Economic Development Commission. The council in their recommendations concurs with our submissions that asked that the townships of Clyde and Bruton be retained in the park with special status, that snowmobiling be continued to be

I'm writing this on the day of the Great Quebec Referendum or the Oui-Oui-Non-Non vote (sounds like a naughty game for kids). No results have come in yet, but I find myself viewing the evening news with a monumental calm bordering on boredom. Hundreds of thousands of column inches of newspaper have been wasted, hundreds of hours of television and radio time expended, exploring, explaining, and exploiting a question that, for true ambiguity, resembles that old-timer, "When did you stop beating your wife?"

Bleeding hearts all over Anglophone Canada, whose connection with the Quebec fact consists of one weekend in Montreal and one encounter with one real, live French-Canadian, have been bleeding all over the upholstery in which the Great Question has been cushioned. I sincerely doubt that there has been much of this bleeding taking place west of Winnipeg. And I sincerely believe that even less of it has been done east of Fredericton.

In the great Liberal-less west, the vote has some curiosity value, but as far as I can sense, no wrenching anguish at the possible break-up of a great and beautiful country.

In the Maritimes, there have been some valid economic qualms at the thought of a fractured Canada, but no panic, from what I can read. It stands to reason then, that my "bleeding hearts all over Anglophone Canada" are mostly in Ontario. And the only time hearts bleed in Ontario is when there is some chance that that province will come out on the short end of a deal.

If the question had not been wrapped in cotton wool, I think there might have been some sense of a real potential tragedy in Canada, instead of the bloated, pumped-up phony issue created by pollsters and politicians, which has produced little but ennuï outside Quebec.

I'd like to have seen a ballot with two statements on it, one to be marked with the traditional X. The first would say, "Nous partirons" and the second, "Je reste au Canada." Loosely translated from my execrable French, they mean, respectively, "We quit!" and, "I stay wïd Canada."

A straight question like this would test the validity of the Pequist claim to self-determination, and would settle, once and for all, the nightmare of a foreign country stuck like a thorn in the body of this sprawling country that exists only because of Sir John A. MacDonald, the CPR, rye whiskey, maple syrup and the fact that the American's don't like a cold climate. These are what have held us together; not idealism, mutual respect, maple leaves, or a national culture.

Whichever side wins today in Quebec, it's going to be a hollow victory. If the Oui vote takes it, a funny, little, passionate, rather endearing man is going to think he's the Second Coming, and will press on one flounder to the next.

If the Non vote takes it, the Oui's are going to scream bloody murder, federal intervention, Anglo duplicity and faulty reading of the stars, among other things.

It appears that it will be fairly even. This solves nothing whatever and serves only to make four million Quebecois mad at the other four million. And this is about average for any Canadian election or vote, so nothing is new.

Pundits talk about lack of communication, as though it had just been invented. Of course there is. But I'll bet there's more communication and a closer rapport between a French farmer and an Anglo farmer than there is between a Gaspe fisherman and a Montreal banker, or between an Alberta construction worker and a Toronto stock-broker.

They talk about two different cultures. Of course there are. But that's no hang-up. There's a whale of a difference between an Oxford professor and a Scottish highlander, but they manage to stagger along under the same crown and constitution.

You can't tell me that a playboy in Nice has the same moral values as a shepherd in Breton, but they are both Frenchmen. A resident of the Bronx in New York and one in Hayfork Centre, Mississippi, have less in common than a dog and a cat, but they are both Americans.

Personally, I have a certain affection for Quebec. I spent my first two years, and all my holidays into the teens, in that province. But I am equally, or more fond of Edinburgh, London, Paris, North Wales.

I don't, and I don't believe many Anglos do, want to take away the language, culture, religion of the Quebecois. They can all go around in their bare skin and smoke Cuban cheroots, as far as I care.

At the same time, I don't want to be bullied into learning another language, at my age. I don't want some member of the family treated better than the others. I don't want to be told by some flaming-eyed radical that I represent a class and a nation that has no soul, that exists only to gouge others. Some gouging I've done from Quebec.

When all the smoke settles, will there be any fire? Quite possibly. There is ignorance and fear on both sides. But I'm not envisioning civil war. Quebec politicians, like those of the rest of Canada, are happier when there is a marshmallow on the end of the rapier.

Man appointed

Deputy Minister of Agriculture and Food Ken Lantz has announced the appointment of A.W. (Tony) Koekoek to an area staff position in the Milk Industry Section, Farm Products Quality Branch, effective May 1. He succeeds M.T. Napper, who recently retired. In his new position, Koekoek will be responsible for the ministry's milk quality program in the counties of Peterborough, Northumberland, Durham, Victoria and Haliburton.

Koekoek is a 1975 graduate in dairy science from the University of Guelph and served as an assistant agricultural representative in Frontenac County with the extension branch of the ministry from 1975 to 1977. He transferred to the Farm Products Quality Branch in August 1977 and has worked since that time from the Welland office.

MNR changes hunting rules

The regulations for moose hunting in a party have been changed from "two persons" to "two or three persons." Natural Resources Minister James Auld announced recently.

The Minister said the change was made in response to concerns expressed by the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters as well as the general public.

"The OFAH was deeply concerned about the moose regulations announced earlier," he said.

The new regulations mean that two or three persons may hunt together but when a moose is killed by a person "hunting in a party," two hunters must immediately attach the seal provided with their licences.

As announced by Auld on April 1, 1980, once the seals are securely attached through the tendon on one of the hind legs, the corresponding moose licences become invalid.

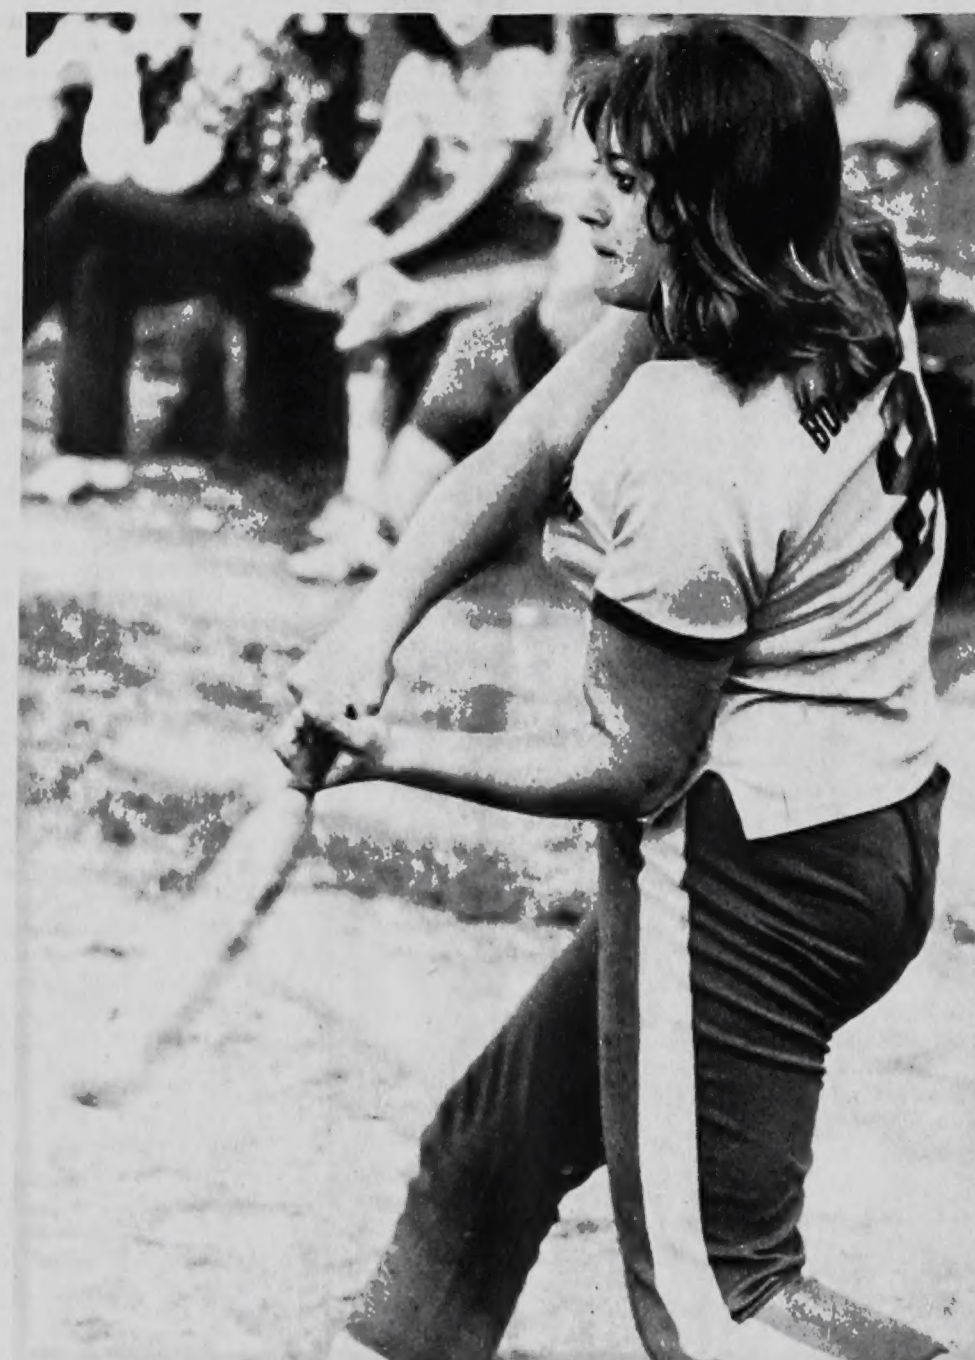

Auld said the change will meet recent objections of some moose hunters, and still help to reduce the moose harvest.

He said restrictive measures are needed to rehabilitate moose populations because herds have declined from 125,000 animals in 1968 to 80,000 in 1980, a decrease of 35 per cent.

"Moose numbers in most areas are less than the habitat can support, and this has reduced both viewing and hunting opportunities and economic benefits. Our immediate objective is to lower the number of animals taken," the Minister said.

"The development of a comprehensive moose management policy and plan, scheduled for implementation in 1981, is progressing well," Auld added.

The West Guilford batter had a mighty swing as the team met Haliburton last Thursday night.

New trappers to be tested

As of July 1, 1980 it will be mandatory for first-time trappers residing in Ontario's eastern, central and Algonquin regions to pass a trapper education course before they are eligible for a licence. The course consists of 10 onenight sessions and a field trip. It is primarily designed to teach humane trapping methods and proper pelt handling and will be given by qualified instructors at community colleges and Ministry of Agriculture and Food facilities.

Natural Resources Minister James Auld said the regulations will apply throughout the province in 1981.

The ministry, in cooperation with the Ontario Trappers Association, has held voluntary trapper education workshops since 1969, but this is the first year a course will be compulsory, according to Auld.

The course will upgrade trapping methods and enhance the fur management program, Auld said. It is also expected to improve the efficiency of the industry which generated $21 million to Ontario trappers in 1979. New trappers can obtain information about the course from any of the ministry's district offices or from the Wildlife Branch at Queen's Park, Toronto.

Legion and LaRue in battle for first place

by Sue Cooper

The Haliburton Legion team and LaRue Motors men's team are tied for first place in the Haliburton men's recreational league.

The legion squad came up with another win a week ago last Tuesday night when they defeated Curry Motors 7-4.

Curry Motors had two out when Steve Roberts made it to first base on a hit. He followed up with a stealing attempt to second base.

Mark Schell came up with another first base hit but Paul Wilson was put out before the runners could make it home.

The Legion came on strong with four runs with its first four batters, Andy Salvatori, Kevin Sisson, Dick McLean and Bernie Nicholls. But Curry's stopped the streak by putting the next three out.

Bob MacNaull brought another run in for the Legion in the bottom of the second inning.

The Curry team was kept scoreless until the fourth frame. Roberts started off the hitting followed by Schell, Ted Ashton and John Wilson.

The Legion held them down the rest of the game.

The winning team tallied up their score in the fifth inning as Nicholls brought home McLean on a home run.

The game was called at the top of the seventh inning. Kevin Sisson was on the mound for the Legion with Mark Schell taking Curry Motors' pitching duties.

The same night, Haliburton Lumber defaulted the game to the Kennedy Surplus players as they could not field a team.

The other first place team marked up a victory on Thursday as they downed the lumbermen 14-3.

LaRue's squad brought in three quick runs at the beginning of the first inning.

Coming home were Paul Dawson, John Robinson and Bob Johnston. Haliburton Lumber was put out quickly in the first two innings.

Robinson marked up another score for LaRue's team in the second, along with Mike Scheffee and Bob Nichol. Sid Cooper came home for the winners in the top of the third.

The lumbermen finally got on the scoreboard in the third inning with a home run from Dwight Sisson bringing Jeff Wynn and Dale Robinson.

LaRue's team held the lumbermen down for the remaining two innings.

The winning team brought in seven runs in the last inning.

Coming home were Mike Scheffee, Dawson, Robinson, Johnston, Scott LaRue, Ken Griffin and Tom Curry.

The winning pitcher was Sid Cooper while Dwight Sisson took the loss.

Raising chinchillas is not a money-making hobby

George Burley has chinchillas at his hobby farm near Maple Lake

by Sue Cooper

Oh, to have fur like the chinchillas do; soft, cuddly, warm and soft to touch.
To most people, especially women, the feel of chinchilla fur is divine and the dream of owning a coat unrealistic, indeed.
But the soft texture of chinchilla fur is familiar to George Burley of Maple Lake. He raises the furry little creatures at his Wake Robin Farm on the Dawson Road.
Raising chinchillas for pets and for pelts is an enjoyable hobby for Burley who first became interested in them while he was teaching science at Archie Stouffer School in Minden.

The cute little rodents which originate in South America were excellent animals for the classroom since they create very little smell and can be left with enough food for the weekend without causing them any harm.

So, Burley dug into his own pocket to purchase four breeding chinchillas for his science room in January of 1969. His students were busy keeping daily records of the animals as well as births and deaths.

Then a policy change was made within the school and animals were no longer allowed in the classrooms, so Burley packed up his animals and took them home.

After eleven years of breeding, Burley has about 40 chinchillas at present, including 24 females. Over the years he has sold "quite a few" as pets and others have been sold for their expensive pelts.

Even though the fur usually commands a high active, Burley said.

"Some days I've gone in there and found one running across the floor and I have to go and find out who the mother is," he said.

As can well be imagined, the animals are very small when born and only grow to weigh about 22 ounces when full grown.

When the kits are born, Burley starts another record as he keeps records of all his animals. These include the chinchilla's date of birth, sire and dam, and what has been done with the animal.

Burley also keeps records of his breeding chinchillas. He includes the sex of their offspring and whether the kits lived or died.

With normally healthy animals, heat is one of their worst enemies, Burley said.

In the winter Burley says he keeps the heat on in the barn more for his own comfort than the animals. He says their fur keeps them quite warm but he usually keeps the temperature up when kits are expected to be born.

but said if new chinchillas were needed they can be bought from the markets or other chinchilla ranchers.

The animals are a relative of the porcupine and if they are touched sometimes they release their hair and it falls out. But fortunately when the pelts are processed and made into coats, the beautiful soft fur remains in place.

Chinchillas ready for bath

The kits have fur, open eyes and all their teeth when born price on the market, Burley says there is no quick turnover, especially on the small scale basis.

Chinchillas seem easy enough to raise as they require only two tablespoonfuls of food per day amounting to about $5 per animal per year for feed.

Every morning, he gives the little animals half of their daily ration of food, checks their water bottles and gives each one a bath.

No, water never touches that beautiful fur. Burley has a large gallon jar for each of his chinchillas. Each jar is partially filled with a fine sand and once it is set inside the cages, the animals get ready.

They start by peering into the jar and then jump in and do two or three quick somersaults in the sand. They cover their entire body and seem to jump out free of any sand.

All of the females are kept in separate cages and a runway along the back of the cages is for the males. If the females happen to get into another cage, one will probably be killed.

The cage belonging to the male has a jump hole at the back that allows him to get into the runway. The females wear large plastic collars that will not allow them to get through the jump holes.

Burley starts the polygamous breeding when the males are about one year old and the females between nine months and a year.

It costs

about $5 a year to feed a chinchilla

When breeding time approaches, Burley uncovers the jump hole at the rear of the male's cage and lets him run along the runway, usually behind about four females, for about three weeks.

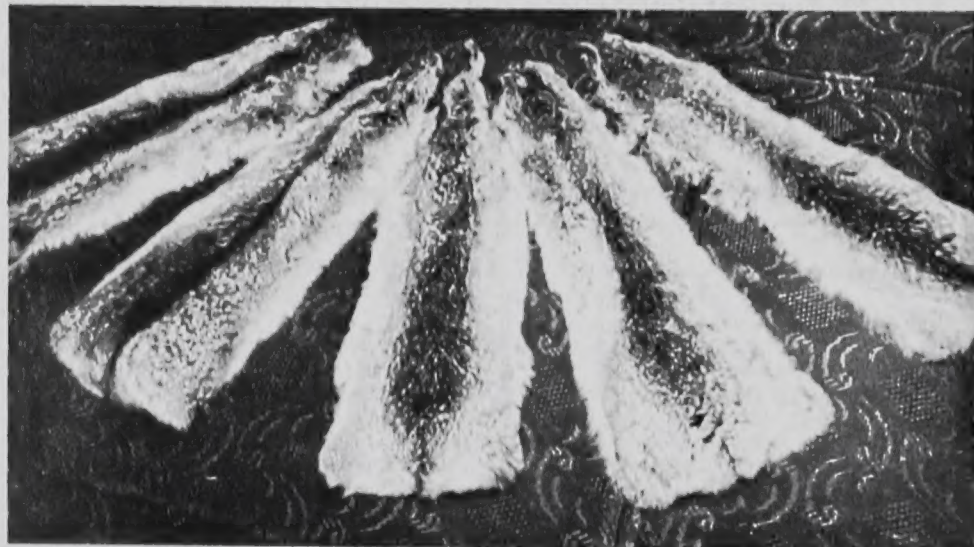

Then when the females are at ease with the male and are used to his smell, Burley opens the jump holes leading to the females' cages.

Once impregnated, the females carry the kits for 111 days, a comparatively long time for such animals. The litters usually contain about one or two kits but Burley said he has had up to four.

When born the kits are fully furred, have their eyes open, have a full set of teeth and are very

THE CORPORATION OF THE TOWNSHIP OF GLAMORGAN

NOTICE

LAND AFFECTED:

The lands affected by this amendment may generally be described as the whole of the Township of Glamorgan save and except for those lands zoned within a non-residential zone such as a commercial or industrial zone in accordance with the provisions of Restricted Area By-law No. 79-14.

EFFECT OF BY-LAW:

Restricted Area By-law No. 79-14 as enacted by Council on June 21, 1979 required a minimum gross floor area of 84 square metres (ie. 900 square feet) for a single-family dwelling unit. Upon circulation of By-law No. 79-14 a number of objections were received in this regard. Accordingly, Council reviewed the objections and has enacted the attached By-law to reduce the minimum gross floor area requirement for either a permanent or seasonal dwelling unit to 70 square metres (ie. 750 square feet).

The attached By-law further serves to amend Section 10.1, Accessory Buildings, Structures and Uses of Restricted Area By-law No. 79-14 so as to permit the erection and use of a private cabin in conjunction with a permanent or seasonal single-family dwelling house within either the Rural or Shoreline Residential Zones as an accessory structure to the principal permitted use. The regulatory provisions imposed with respect to development and utilization of such an accessory building requires that i the that ground floor area not exceed 20 square metres (ie. 215 square feet);

ii that the height not exceed 5 metres (ie. 16 feet), iii that the structure does not include any facilities for the cooking or preparation of food nor plumbing appurtenances or sanitary conveniences; and,

iv that such a private cabin comply with the yard and setback requirements of the Zone in which it is situated as set forth under Restricted Area By-law No. 79-14.

The amending By-law further serves to amend Section 10.6, Frontage on Public Street, Private Right-of-Way or Navigable Waterway, insofar as is necessary to exempt a hunt camp from the provisions of By-law No. 79-14 requiring frontage upon an improved public street provided all other pertinent provisions of the By-law are complied with.

In addition to the foregoing, this amendment to Restricted Area By-law No. 79-14 also serves to amend the definitions of Hunt Camp and Motor Vehicle as set forth under Sections 11.71 and 11.95 respectively of By-law No. 79-14. The amendment of the wording of the aforementioned definitions is to clarify the intent of same.

THE CORPORATION OF THE TOWNSHIP OF GLAMORGAN

BY-LAW NO. 80-11

A BY-LAW TO AMEND RESTRICTED AREA BY-LAW NO. 79-14

WHEREAS the Council of the Corporation of the Township of Glamorgan enacted a comprehensive Restricted Area By-law, namely By-law No. 79-14, to regulate the use of land and the character, location and use of buildings and structures within the whole of the Municipality;

AND WHEREAS upon circulation of the said By-law numerous objections were received with respect to the provisions and regulations set forth thereunder;

AND WHEREAS the Council of the Corporation of the Township of Glamorgan has given serious consideration to those objections regarding such matters as the minimum gross floor area per dwelling unit and the restrictions applying to the erection and use of private cabins in conjunction with a permanent or seasonal single-family dwelling house within either the Shoreline Residential (SR) or Rural (RU) Zones;

AND WHEREAS the Council of the Corporation of the Township of Glamorgan has given further consideration to the provisions of Restricted Area By-law No. 79-14 as apply to restrict the erection of buildings or structures to those lots having frontage upon an improved public street and considers it advisable to exempt hunt camps from the said provisions;

AND WHEREAS the Council of the Corporation of the Township of Glamorgan has reviewed various other provisions and matters and further considers it advisable to amend various sections so as to clarify the intent of By-law No. 79-14;

NOW THEREFORE the Corporation of the Township of Glamorgan ENACTS as follows:

1. THAT Schedule "C", Provisions for Residential Uses, of Restricted Area By-law No. 79-14, be and the same, is hereby amended by deleting the minimum gross floor area per dwelling unit requirement of 84 square metres as it appears in Line 9 of Columns "B", "C", "D", "E", "F", "G", "H", and "I" of the said Schedule "C" and inserting therefor a minimum gross floor area requirement of 70 square metres. In all other respects the provisions set forth on Schedule "C" shall remain the same.

2. THAT SECTION 10.1, ACCESSORY BUILDINGS, STRUCTURES AND USES, of Restricted Area By-law No. 79-14 of the Corporation of the Township of Glamorgan, be and the same, is hereby amended insofar as is necessary to insert a new subsection which shall read as follows:

"1 PRIVATE CABIN

Notwithstanding any other provision contained within this By-law to the contrary, a private cabin may be erected and used in conjunction with either a detached permanent or seasonal single-family dwelling house on a lot within the Shoreline Residential (SR) or Rural (RU) Zones, provided the ground floor area of such cabin does not exceed 20 square metres; the height does not exceed 5 metres; the structure does not include any facilities for the cooking or preparation of food nor plumbing appurtenances or sanitary conveniences; and, provided further that such private cabin complies with the yard and setback requirements of the zone in which it is situated."

3. THAT SECTION 10.6, FRONTAGE ON PUBLIC STREET, PRIVATE RIGHT-OF-WAY OR NAVIGABLE WATERWAY, of Restricted Area By-law No. 79-14 of the Corporation of the Township of Glamorgan, be and the same, is hereby amended insofar as is necessary to add a new subsection which shall read as follows, namely:

"d. EXCEPTIONS

Notwithstanding any other provision of this Subsection as set forth under paragraphs (a), (b) or (c) hereof, the provisions of this By-law shall not apply to prohibit the erection, alteration or use of a hunt camp, or buildings or structures accessory thereto, within the Rural (RU) Zone, provided that all other applicable provisions of this By-law are complied with."

4. THAT SECTION 11.71, the definition of "HUNT CAMP", of Restricted Area By-law No. 79-14 of the Corporation of the Township of Glamorgan, be and the same, is hereby deleted in its entirety and the following inserted therefor to read as follows:

"11.71 HUNT CAMP"

Shall mean a building or structure consisting of one or more rooms which is at least partially furnished and may include facilities for the preparation of food and overnight accommodation on a temporary basis for use during the hunting and fishing seasons only but shall not include any other establishment or use as may be defined or classified in this By-law."

5. THAT SECTION 11.95, the definition of "MOTOR VEHICLE" of Restricted Area By-law No. 79-14 of the Corporation of the Township of Glamorgan, be and the same, is hereby deleted in its entirety and the following inserted therefore to read as follows:

"11.95 MOTOR VEHICLE

Shall mean an automobile, truck, motorcycle, and any other vehicle propelled or driven otherwise than by muscular power; but does not include the cars of electric or steam railways, or other motor vehicles running only upon rails, or a motorized snow vehicle, traction engine, farm tractor, self-propelled implement of husbandry or road building machine within the meaning of The Highway Traffic Act, R.S.O., 1970, c. 202, as amended, replaced or re-enacted from time to time."

6. THAT this By-law shall become effective on the date of passing thereof by the Council of the Corporation of the Township of Glamorgan, subject to the approval of the Ontario Municipal Board.

Area lodge caters to senior citizens

Deer Lodge is the only Ontario resort operating as a senior citizens' vacation spot

by Sue Cooper

As you enter the yard of Deer Lodge, it doesn't seem particularly different from any of the resorts in Haliburton County. Its cheery cabins, well-kept lawn and naturally beautiful waterfront are not out of the ordinary in this tourism-oriented area. The most memorable aspect of Deer Lodge is the faces friendly smile while others may take a little coaxing. But they do have one noticeable trait in common.

All of these faces are wrinkled. They are old faces that tell stories of many years of hard work and many years of enjoyment.

Every guest at Deer Lodge is a Senior Citizen. This year Marilyn Teljeur who co-manages the of its guests.

For the most part they are quick to return a resort with her husband John, says they expect to entertain nearly 5,000 seniors before the end of October.

The program is unique and Deer Lodge is the only resort in Ontario which caters to seniors, only, in the busy summer months.

The lodge has been operating as a senior citizen resort since 1978 when it joined forces with Proud To Be Me travel agency from Toronto.

Tours are arranged from all parts of Ontario with their destination being Haliburton. Seniors have come from as far as Sudbury, Ottawa, Sarnia and also from as close as Cobocok, Lindsay and Peterborough to have a holiday at Deer Lodge.

With three busloads of approximately 40 seniors on board arriving every five days, the lodge is kept running at full tilt.

"We enjoy them (the guests), I don't think we'd ever go back," Teljeur says.

Teljeur and her staff all echo the same remarks about their visitors. "They're so appreciative."

Carol Ann Riches, activity director at the lodge, says entertaining the seniors is not really like working.

"I've worked with youth in the past and they seem to take every thing for granted...these people are so appreciative of even little things."

Riches, along with the other recreational staff, is kept busy organizing the "fun olympics" in which every group takes part.

The games are spread out over four or five days and medals are awarded to the winners at an awards banquet on the last night of their stay. Included in the olympics are lawn bowling, shuffleboard (the all-time favourite), lawn darts, and wall darts, as well as card tournaments, deer races, croquet, mini golf and bingo games.

"Our staff has to be very outgoing," Teljeur says. The lodge has a staff of 56, double the wheelchair, they prepare special meals for those who might have to watch their diets and they take the time to see to the special needs of each guest.

Teljeur says it is funny how some groups always seem to have one particular favourite pastime in common. Some will hardly stop playing cards to eat while others enjoy dancing most of the time.

"One couple danced their way right into the diningroom" number which would be needed to run the resort at a regular lodge.

But the energy the staff puts into making sure all the guests are comfortable is well worth it.

"Seniors are tremendous people to serve, they're here two days and they're telling you they'll be back next year," diningroom hostess Irene Higgins says.

The lodge tries to put genuine care into looking after the seniors. Staff members put ramps at all doorways just to accommodate one person in a "One couple danced their way right into the diningroom," Higgins recalls.

"We have more fun with seniors," says John Teljeur.

He says they are made to feel part of a big family and don't need to feel self-conscious about being older.

People have come to the resort who haven't been in the water for 25 years but when with the group they'll don their bathing suit and are swimming in the lake.

Two ladies, who are both in their nineties, went for the first airplane ride of their lives at the lodge last week.

"They're natural fun lovers," John Teljeur says.

Also included in the schedule, which runs from 9:30 in the morning to 11 p.m., is a cruise in the Highland Queen on Lake Kashagawigamog, through Grass Lake and Head Lake into Haliburton. If there is time, Captain Jim Tice will dock in town and the seniors can make a brief tour of the village.

Once during their stay the seniors travel in to town in a bus to see the sites, Teljeur said.

But the seniors are not one-time visitors to the area; for some this will be their third summer visit to the Highlands.

One man from Woodstock who had been to the lodge on a tour last fall told Teljeur on Friday: "You always get a good bunch of girls here, I don't know how you do it."

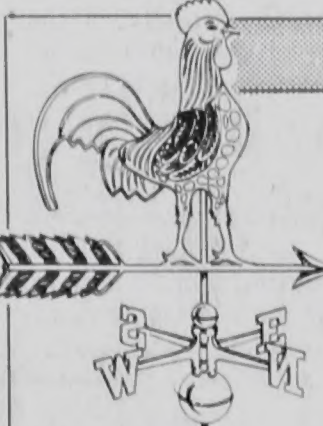

He had obviously been impressed with the staff members from last year as he asked how each one was doing and called them by name.

And when the time to leave rolls around, Teljeur says there are a lot of genuine crying from staff members and seniors alike.

"We feel so close to them," she says.

Beer drinking on Minden street irritates ratepayer

The sight of youths drinking beer on Minden's main street has prompted one village ratepayer to lodge a complaint with Anson, Hindon and Minden council.

In a letter to council, Dennis B. Willison said he was in the village on the afternoon of Saturday, May 17 "and was not only surprised by what I saw, but thoroughly disgusted to think that I live in such a town."

Willison said he encountered three youths drinking beer on the sidewalk in front of Minden drug store. "The patrons of the Rockcliffe Hotel were drinking on the street, parking lot and surrounding area."

Willison said it was not the first time he'd encountered the scene. "The riffraff the town attracts by having a beer garden is of no benefit to any town," he told council.

Willison said the OPP detachment had told him "the situation is beyond their control due to lack of manpower."

In conclusion Willison asked council a number of questions relating to the beer garden at the Rockcliffe Hotel and whether or not council felt it should be allowed, since in his words "you cannot properly control it."

In discussing the letter at a meeting last Wednesday, reeve Sinc Nesbitt noted that council does not give out liquor licences, that they could not be sure the beer consumed in front of the drug store had come from the Right of Ontario as represented by the Minister of the Environment, was passed.

By-law 80-35, a by-law to authorize the reeve and clerk to execute an agreement with John Burns relative to a plan of subdivision, was also passed.

By-law 80-1 of the Minden Water System was approved, being a by-law to amend By-law 8-65 of The Minden Water System.

Rockcliffe, and that enforcement of the laws is "a police thing".

Nesbitt also noted that when a public hearing was called to consider the Rockcliffe's application for an outdoor beer garden, only one ratepayer turned up.

Councillor Len Lonsberry said the responsibility to close down the beer garden or to allow it to remain open rested not with council but with the Liquor Licensing Board of Ontario.

Council agreed to send a letter to Willison outlining the municipality's position on the matter.

Police squad lays 17 charges

Minden OPP special law enforcement squad laid a total of 17 charges over the weekend.

The squad was active for approximately nine hours on Friday and Saturday night, according to a report from the detachment. Wearing old clothes and driving unmarked vehicles, the team visited Gooderham, Wilberforce, Harcourt, Haliburton, West Guilford and the Stanhope area. A total of 11 charges were issued for violations of the Highway Traffic Act, three charges were issued under the Liquor Licence Act, and three charges were laid under the Compulsory Automobile Insurance Act.

Look who's stealing your electricity.

A stove exhaust fan filter clogged with grease and grime makes the fan motor work longer and harder to draw air through. Just soaking the filter in mild soap or detergent will fix this energy waster.

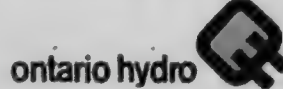

Grease and burnt-on food really reduce your oven's efficiency. A clean oven works better and uses less electricity. Opening the oven door too often also wastes valuable heat. If you have a window in the oven door, keeping it see-through clean can clear up the problem.

Use Energy Wisely

Tune-up, clean up. It's simple. Appliances that are clean and well-cared for last longer and use less electricity. Over the long run, you can save money on appliance replacement. And of course, the less energy you waste, the more dollars you save.

Don't waste your energy.

Extendicare News

by Dr. W. O. Anderson

We undertook this year to give a trim to Extendicare landscape by removing the sod from close to the tree trunks and shrubs and along the grass patio meet, eliminating that long scraggy appearance that otherwise occurs. The salvaged sod and resulting debris is returned to various flower beds, buried as little composts, planting seedlings over them if we are planting seedlings, and anywhere in the beds if we are not. There is no quicker or efficient way of disposing of debris. On the other hand we find it difficult to find anyone to agree with this and instead they will load the refuse on their truck and take it to the dump, but we are not so lucky to have a truck. We will have to continue to bury it.

Our flower program is much different this year with more perennials and fewer others, rather fortunate too because the petunia plants are almost a complete failure. Just why we do not know. There will be the calla lilies, mignonette, zinnias, alyssum and marigolds. The lupins promise to thrive, but it is too soon to know about the birgamoit or the phlox.

Peter Ustinov has no peer when it comes to narrating Russian nobility with which he is well versed. Monday evening's narration recounts the story of a czarist princess who had 23 children, source unknown. It is rare to see Peter smile but of course it could be the beard.

There is one botanical phenomenon, the cracking of huge rock masses by the root hairs of trees to allow them to take root. These tiny root hairs, much smaller than a human hair, carry a rock solvent that initially allows it to begin penetration to a sufficient depth followed by a mistletoe of water. This mistletoe freezes and in so doing expands enough to create a fissure, which then allows much more and longer root penetration, then more and more seepage with frost fissuring, thus giving vegetation its start. It is hard to comprehend that the freezing of a water mistletoe can exert such pressure.

June Devolin conducting Bible study Tuesday morning read another good story from the Bible, Judges 14-5 about Samson. Samson was one whose birth was divinely predicted and special to God, and who married a philistine girl who proved false, which shows that society was much the same then as it is today. It is possible that man was less remote from God then.

Tuesday's bingo had its variation by having a new-comer as a helper, of whom we are in need. Loretta Henderson, Betty Wise, Karen Henderson and Anne Pearson helped this week. Ray Smith called a portion, then was relieved by Allen Macklin. It was a very good game.

We have a pop vending machine that vends canned pop but originally bottled pop that had metal caps which were put into a receptacle opening in the middle front of the machine. With cans that became redundant until recently when a pair of swallows spied this opening bird size and eventually established their home, laid five eggs and are now sitting on them which are due to pop any time. These swallows seem to enjoy the attention they get from the folk who enjoy the pop. Who says Extendicare is hum drum?

Vending machine makers should take note for the benefit of swallows.

The June birthday party held on Thursday was unique to have only two celebrants, Myrtle Pritchard and Annie Silver (nee Noble). It was the day when the weather turned warm and we were able to set out our muskmelon seedlings. In the pots they seemed to stop thriving, but were by no means pot-bound. Marilyn Stouffer ushered in the next year for the two residents of honour, accompanying herself and us at the piano, going over as many as possible of the old, well rehearsed favourites. Through a misunderstanding Betty Salvatori was unable to add her skills. Of course as usual Marilyn was superb as a good entertainer and life of the party and the happy birthday cake appeared, was served and eaten with juices or tea. Many thanks to Marilyn and the dining room help and the nurses in making a successful party and to establish that two residents are now a year older.

Friday we being chosen from the Happy Gang as a committee of one to represent Extendicare/Haliburton at Extendicare/North York where a reception to the Hon. Dennis Timbrell, Minister of Health for Ontario, the overall boss of all Ontario nursing homes was being held. We had the good fortune to have Sheila Elston, our administrator as driver escort to this notable function and excellent company. A nice buffet lunch was provided during which, some speaking, some singing and some dancing was done and provided a nice environment to make friends and influence others and to learn that Extendicare/Haliburton's landscape is just as attractive as Extendicare/North York's. On the other hand, we were troubled to leave behind a nursing home in a metropolis of some three million people in a smog of carbon dioxide produced by the people and by up to a million gas powered vehicles running pell mell everywhere almost like sitting in a car in a nearly closed garage with the motor running and with the honourable minister sitting there as nonchalant as you please, not being a physician and seeing no problem, doing nothing. Life and motor vehicles are in a game of "put and take" taking oxygen out of and putting a pollutant carbon dioxide into our atmosphere, and according to an inexorable equation the one equals the other. If metro, or Ontario, or Canada prides ourselves as the world's greatest guzzler of the world's energy, so it is with oxygen, an element that exists in a fixed or diminishing amount that is only replenished by the earth's vegetable kingdom, exemplified in our mind in the burdock plant only one of which will take much carbon dioxide and put much oxygen that must also store an incredible amount of plant nutrients. Is the word not choking out our vegetation? Our newborns have the right to take oxygen and put carbon dioxide but it is possible that we are denying that: Are our scientists tending to confuse the forgoing with the effects of nuclear radiation? It was a very nice outing.

Mary Currah a most cherished lady resident left us Sunday morning, as she says "never to return". Mary profited so much by her considerable stay at Extendicare/Haliburton that she can now care for herself.

Senior League

This week, the weather turned drastically Monday morning, it was snowing, which is really unusual for June. However, we warmed up at fun and fitness. We did our exercises to music and had a vigorous game of kick the ball. Later on the ladies went to crafts to work on their projects. We are working hard these days preparing for the bazaar in July.

Tuesday morning, it was a pleasure to listen to the inspiring message delivered by Evelyn Coleman at chapel. Agnes Taylor accompanied us on the organ while we sang some gospel hymns.

It was a special day for Alice Pogue when she celebrated her birthday. Mrs. Pogue was presented with a decorated cake and best wishes from the staff.

In the afternoon, we watched two interesting movies. "A Walk In The Forest" was filmed in an evergreen forest in South America. We watched the life changes and patterns of the animals and plants in the forest. We saw how fire ruins the homes of the many inhabitants, and it was explained that "if man looks after the forest, it will look after him." "Royal Doulton" showed us how the finest china is made. Clay is turned into liquid, then extracted into a dough. The dough is shaped and baked, sanded and then polished, some by machine and some by hand. The beautiful dinner sets are hand-painted and very expensive.

Harcourt Chapel Happenings

Our county is fortunate in having a number of fine libraries from which to obtain reading matter. Harcourt Chapel has a splendid library of books for all ages with a wide selection of both study guides and books of biblical history and historians, also those for enjoyable reading. Our librarian would be pleased to assist you.

It is encouraging to report that the Wednesday evening bible study sessions are well attended.

The Chapel picnic held Saturday afternoon was a great success. Although the weather wasn't hot, the rain held off until all the events were over. There was keen enthusiasm among both the very young and not so young. With races and games for the little ones, the excitement ran high as games of skill such as the sponge throw took place with several brave teachers supplying the target. The old-timers took the lead in the nail driving contest but gave way badly on the tug-a-war against the under 30ths. Several contestants learned that not all balloons are filled with air, for when the water balloons burst and brought a shower of laughs. Families had an opportunity to gather around and enjoy a picnic supper, topped off with ice cream. The day was well planned and much credit goes to our Sunday School superintendent. The chapel appreciated the use of the grounds and facilities provided by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas at their Lake Wilbermere camp grounds. Saturday evening wound up by the Young People going to West Guilford for a ball game. A good game resulted with real sportsmanship and let's just say - the best team won.

Sunday morning 10 o'clock service was well attended with many families present. The communion service is a time of worship and provides an opportunity for believers to share a portion of scripture, a reading, or just to request a hymn.

A welcome was extended to new members to the Sunday School.

The evening service was very well attended and Brother Don Waterhouse from Highland Crossroads brought a very deep and positive

Minden school holds music night

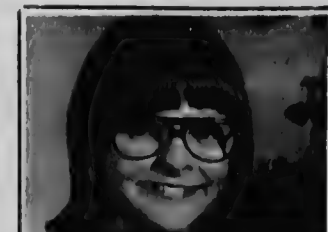

The grade six, seven and eight, of Archie Stouffer Public School in Minden, presented Music Night '80 to a packed house last Thursday night.

The highlight of the evening of entertainment was a musical play, "It Takes a Wizard", produced by the school's drama club.

As well as the individual grade bands, solos were performed by piano, trumpet and flute players.

Clarinet enthusiasts also added to the evening with a duet and ensemble performance.

The Public and Separate Elementary Schools of Peterborough County Sponsored a safety poster contest. The overall award was won by Julie Chambers.

Twelve-year-old Julie is the daughter of David and Beth Chambers of Bridgeport, and granddaughter of Catherine Chambers and Petra Pequegnat.

'Meals to wheels' begins

Under the sponsorship of the Haliburton County Home Support Services a buffet dinner was held at noon, Tuesday, June 10 at Sunny Rock Lodge, overlooking the waterfall at Scotts' Dam, for senior citizens of Gelert, Ingoldsby, Lochlin and Donald. A similar gathering was held Wednesday, June 11 at Sir Sam's Inn, Eagle Lake, for seniors in the Eagle Lake area.

"Wheels to Meals" is a new concept of seniors helping seniors - those having transportation helping to accommodate those needing a drive to the luncheon. This enables many who otherwise would not have an opportunity to socialize with their friends and neighbours to do so as well as enjoy a meal together.

Hosts for the Tuesday meal were Lorna and Barrie Shaw, new owners of the Sunny Rock Lodge. Hosts for Wednesday's meal in Eagle Lake were Liz and James Orr, owners of Sir Sam's Inn.

Convenors of the Wheels to Meals program are Mrs. Bessie Burk and Mrs. Gladys Reid. Convenor for the Eagle Lake program is Mrs. Marion Clift.

The Wheels to Meals program will continue and anyone wishing to know more about the service should call the convenors or the office of the Haliburton County Home Support Service in the municipal building in Haliburton at 457-2941.

course how important first impressions can be when a tourist comes into the area. He said the ministry "spends a lot of money marketing Ontario. COTA spends a lot of money marketing the Central Ontario area," the Chamber spends advertising money, resorts advertise, "and the whole thing gets blown if somebody says 'What do you want'."

Besides stressing the use of correct English, the course centres on improving self confidence, improving hospitality skills, effective use of the telephone, and generally how to give better service to customers.

It also discusses ways of dealing with complaints, attitudes toward tourism in the area, and specific problems related to tourism in Haliburton County.

Last year, some 10,000 people across the province took the course, and the ministry is hoping to reach at least that many again this year, Potter said. Those who complete the course receive a certificate and a pin for their efforts.

Anyone interested in taking either of the courses next week should contact the Chamber office in Minden.

Council stated that it intends to amend by-law 9-79 to re-route the Cope Lake Road to follow the lot line between 8 and 9, Concession 21, southerly to the concession between Concessions 20 and 21, thence easterly along the said concession to the lake-shore.

The Horticultural Society of Minden brought an assortment of home-made goodies for the Thursday tea party. Our residents always enjoy the weekly tea parties and the visits from the many groups of ladies.

Friday afternoon, Mrs. Ruth Thompson led us in the singing of old familiar hymns and songs. Lucille Clarke Hyland Crest is now serving Meals on Wheels to six or seven Minden residents every other day. The program is working out very well, and I've heard these people are very happy with the delicious food.

We're tightening up on people who abuse Unemployment Insurance.

Most people getting unemployment insurance play by the rules. But some people don't seem to know that they can't take a job and collect benefits without telling us they're working. That's why employers are being asked to send us the starting date and Social Insurance Number or extracts from computer payroll tapes for each employee they hire or rehire. This information is cross-checked with the Social Insurance Numbers of people receiving unemployment insurance benefits. Only cases of potential abuse will ever surface. After investigation, anyone found receiving benefits to which they are not entitled will have to repay them. It may be an honest mistake.

Norland Notebook

For the fifth year Norland United Church Women will have their Opportunity Shop. On Tuesday, June 24 at 1:30 p.m. it will open in larger premises at the garage beside Norland post office and each Tuesday and Saturday from 1:30 to 4:00 p.m. until Labour Day. Good used clothing and useful articles for home and cottage will be on sale at reasonable prices. Donations of any of these things would be most appreciated by the ladies and can be left at the post office. With today's rising prices, the U.C.W. Opportunity Shop is a great way to save.

On Wednesday, July 9 the Norland U.C.W. invite you to their bazaar and bake sale in Norland United Church hall starting at 2:00 p.m. Hand-knitted, crocheted articles and other crafts will be on sale as will a large assortment of home baked goods and afternoon tea.

I was pleased to hear that Henry Saunders is home and feeling much better after spending 10 days in a Toronto hospital. We wish you a speedy recovery, Henry!

Calling all bingo players! Ladies auxiliary of the firemen start their summer bingo on Monday, June 30 at 8:00 p.m. Opening night this year will be a special birthday and prize evening with more chances of winning. Admission is $1, extra cards two for .25 cents and jackpot starts at $100 to be won in 50 numbers. Come out and join the fun at Norland Community Hall!

Lots of activities to remember to attend. Norland firefighters Horse Draw on Saturday, July 5 starting at 1:00 p.m. in Ward Memorial Park. Admission is $2 per adult, $1 for children under 12 years and pre-schoolers free. Haliburton Pipe Band will be there to entertain as well as games of chance, refreshments and a door prize.

The church sponsored Vietnamese family that has been living in Minden has been invited by Westway United Church to move to Toronto. The Minden-Coboconk committee has thought for some time that employment opportunities are very limited in this area. So after discussing the matter with the Luongs, it has been decided to move them to Toronto where the Westway church members will help them get settled in an apartment, seek employment for them and arrange for them to meet other Vietnamese people. The Luongs, I imagine, have been quite lonely in Minden with little or no communication with other refugees. Minden-Coboconk committee will still accept financial responsibility for the Luongs until they are gainfully employed or November when the year's sponsorship expires.

Thanks are extended to Les Thomas who has been busy planting the Norland Horticultural Society flower beds. They are looking most attractive and do enhance the appearance of Norland. Keeping the grass cut around the gardens and in the park is another troublesome chore that is so often taken for granted. It is, however, well done by the Bryants, Vern LeCraw and the Austins. Thank you from all of us who do notice and appreciate your efforts.

On Sunday, June 8 in Norland Community Hall, Diane Davey was hostess at a miscellaneous bridal shower for Carol Powell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Powell, Coboconk. Carol will wed Larry Greer, son of Mrs. Myrtle and the late Byard Greer. Congratulations to the happy couple.

Winner of the Philips food processor at the Norland Red and White store on Saturday, June 7 was Mrs. Valinda Madill. This was the fourth and last lucky entry prize awarded in the "contest of champions". A large and value packed sidewalk sale is being planned for Norland Red and White store during the weekend of June 20 - 22. A representative of the Norland Firefighters Association will be on hand to sell lucky $1 draw tickets to win a $1000 bill. Draw will be made at the Horse Draw in Ward Memorial Park on July 5.

Thursday, June 9 is graduation day for 17 grade 8 pupils of Norland Elementary School. Dinner prepared by some of the Women's Institute ladies will be served to the graduates in W.I. hall at noon hour. At 1:00 p.m. a graduation ceremony will be held in the community hall followed by dancing until about 3:30 p.m. Norland Youth Club are sponsoring a dance for everyone 10 years of age and older in the community hall from 8:00 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. on Friday, June 20. Records will be used for dancing, snack bar available and admission is $1.50 each.

Did you think that last week it had been a very short summer and winter had arrived again? Each day the weather predictions were for warmer weather but it was a long time coming. Snow was seen in Lindsay, Coboconk, Norland, Minden and Haliburton but fortunately it didn't stay for long on the ground. Some reported frost on their flower and vegetable plants but, for the most part, I think that we were very fortunate that the damage was not worse. Today (Friday) is much more summer-like and soon we will probably complain about the weather being too warm.

We'll hope for better, warmer weather to ripen the strawberries needed for the Baddow Strawberry Supper on June 28. It will be served at the Baddow United Church and also the community centre to facilitate the large groups that usually attend this yearly event. The starting time is 3:00 p.m., not 4:00 p.m. as I said in last week's column. Adults $4.50, children under 12 years $2.50 and pre-schoolers free.

U.C.W.

by Loretta Zufelt

The June 2 meeting of the Lindsay Presbyterian U.C.W. was also a workshop for some Presbyterian and local officers with approximately 60 ladies meeting at Queen Street Church.

Mrs. Leola English, president, chaired the executive meeting.

In reports from Presbyterian officers it was noted that a book display was on hand for the day with excellent helps in all areas of our U.C.W. work. We are asked to discontinue saving international codes as there does not appear to be a further use for them. Fall rallies were announced for Area 6 at Carnarvon in September; Area 2 at Atherly and Area 5 at Yelverton in October.

A resource centre is to be established for the Presbyterian and it is hoped it will be open at the Queen St. Annex early in September. Representatives on that committee are Mrs. Bruce Blachford of Cameron and Mrs. Willis Boston of Lindsay. The alcohol and drug abuse committee reported that it is asking U.C.W. groups to sponsor youth from their area at the Toc Alpha Conference this year.

Next meeting of the executive is planned for November 10 at Bethel U.C.

As the executive met during the morning, other U.C.W. were enjoying interest groups on banner making and various crafts. Mrs. Moyce Townes of Dalrymple thanked the leaders of these groups.

Following lunch a period of singing was enjoyed under the leadership of Mrs. Loretta Zufelt of Bethel.

The ladies then went into workshop groups. The first three on programme, supply and service, missionary and Christian education, had as a resource person the conference officer of that particular department: Mrs. Jacqueline Guthrie, Mrs. Vera Walker and Mrs. Gwen Walton. Treasurers met with Mrs. Orice Wells, Presbyterian treasurer and regional chairman met with the president, Mrs. English.

Worship service closed the day's activities under the leadership of Mrs. Guthrie with the assistance of members of the programme group.

Gooderham News

by Mary Hadley

An inspirational and delightful musical evening was enjoyed in the Gooderham United Church Sunday evening. Among the numbers in the varied programme were two solos, beautifully rendered by John Miller of Haliburton, accompanied by Rebecca Davidson who is studying music at Sir Wilfred Laurier University, Waterloo. Gerard Mumford and his Bluegrass Missionaires were generous with their toe-tapping music, accompanying some beautiful sacred numbers.

The Rivers family, unaccompanied, were pleasing in their harmonious renditions. Bob Stark, student minister at the United Church, added a different touch as he played "Amazing Grace" on the bagpipes. A trio composed of Carol Bradley, Maurice Bradley and Bob Stark, showed the musical talent of our ministerial family. It was an evening which was inspiring and uplifting. A social time was enjoyed as the group repaired to the basement for refreshments.

Visitors for the weekend with Mrs. Ruby Maxwell included: Mr. and Mrs.

Aubrey Maxwell and granddaughter, Melanie, of Minden, along with their daughter Susan and her husband of Toronto and Mr. and Mrs. George Maxwell and two boys of Scarborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul McQuillan and two sons of St. Catharines spent the weekend with Paul's grandmother, Mrs. Claribel Sheehan.

Guests of Mrs. Audrey Prentice were her daughters, Barbara and Susan and grandson, Douglas.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Madill and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Madill and family of Peterborough, were at their cottages for the weekend.

Glamorgan Senior Citizens met in the firehall on Wednesday evening with an attendance of 33. Being the second Wednesday of the month, the meal consisted of meat and vegetable casseroles, rolls, cake and beverage. Among the guests were Mr. David MacDuff and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McColl.

Birthday greetings were sung to Mrs. McColl who celebrated her birthday the previous day and to Tommy who will celebrate his birthday on Tuesday. Gordon Barr took pictures of the three honoured guests. A period of activity followed while the members had fun decorating the hall for the Saturday night dance. The rest of the evening was spent in learning a Scottish dance, taught by Dorothy Robertson, square and round dancing to Jack Gedney's music or card playing, bringing to a close an enjoyable evening.

We are sorry to report that, while on a visit to his sister, Mrs. Thos. Dovell, Norman Maxwell took quite sick, forcing him to fly to his home in Kakabeka Falls. His friends extend sincerest wishes for better health.

On Wednesday evening, the Gooderham ladies met the Snowdon Stompers in a

Our high school students are looking happy these days - "school's out". Many of these students are beginning summer jobs - but some are still looking for summer employment.

Best wishes to Libby Harrison and Les Clark who are at present, patients in hospitals in Peterborough.

Grace Cowen had the misfortune to fall last week and injure her knee. Grace is also in hospital in Peterborough.

The fly-in dance held this past weekend at the Stanhope Firefighters Hall was a great success and was well attended. The planning committee is to be commended - the music supplied by Ed White-way was varied and the buffet was delicious.

The weather didn't cooperate again this year for the Stanhope Fly-in but many people braved the cold and rain to participate and watch those events which were available. Plans are for some of the events which were cancelled to be shown next month (weather permitting).

Many of our local "Seniors" who live alone are taking advantage of the "Meals on Wheels" program which has begun recently. One gentleman told me that the meals are delicious and he certainly appreciates the service three days a week.

Sunday School attendance pins were awarded this past Sunday during the service at Zion United Church. Awards were presented by Sunday School superintendent, Elgin Stouffer. The Sunday School picnic is planned for next weekend.

Garth and Helen Windsor of Hornepayne, also their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Swartz of Oshawa visited Maurice and Blanche Windsor last weekend.

The June meeting of the Carnarvon U.C.W. was held last Wednesday and took the form of a pot luck luncheon. Senior citizens of the area were in attendance and films were shown of church activities from previous years.

Kinmount Korner

by Millie Moss

Hasn't this been like June in January or should that be the other way around? Not very nice gardening weather.

We attended the Robert and Johanna Card, garden wedding at Jackson's Point on June 7. Approximately 45 guests attended the pretty affair. The bride was beautiful in her full length gown of lace over tulle with full, wrist length sleeves and mandarin collar. Her veil was lace and trailing floor length and held by halo style, white satin. She carried a cascade of red roses. Her gown and veil had been made for her by the groom's mother, Marie Card. Matron of honour was the bride's sister who was attired in floor length, dusty blue shade of gown cut in very plain lines which accentuated her waist length blonde hair. She carried a nosegay of pale yellow daisies. The groom was attired in black pants, white jacket, white shirt with pearl grey edged ruffles and likewise a brother, Philip Card, who acted as best man. The marriage took place in front of the prettily decorated garden gazebo at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Card. Hanging pots of snowballs, wedding bells and red roses complimented the area, along with the huge statue of venus. The four tiered wedding cake was made and decorated by a sister of the groom, Christine Bailey. After a short wedding trip, the happy couple will reside in Jackson's Point.

Visitors at the home of Mary L. Pyke on Monday were Lorrie and Jason Mss. Norland and Clyde Pardy, Cobocok.

It was nice to see Margaret Kylie back to church again on Sunday after her illness.

Ruth Menard and Gerrie McKay visit with the past president of the Legion ladies of Kinmount on Monday, Lil Platt, who recently underwent surgery. Get well soon Lil.

Walter Noseworthy and family of Norland have as a guest for two or three weeks, his mother, Mrs. Mary Noseworthy, of Spaniards Bay, Nfld. She is a very lovely lady and we hope you enjoy every second of your visit.

Happy belated "39th" to Win Wilson of RRI. Kinmount, on June 9.

We all become a little absent minded at times but what's this I hear about a lady, upon leaving the Kirkfield Lions bingo last Tuesday night got into her car and started to drive away with at least one of her passengers only halfway in?

Glad to hear Jean Merrett's health is improving. Take it easy Jean and you'll be right back in there swinging. Enjoyed your short chat, Wednesday night, Dug.

Police are investigating a break-in at Scott's I.G.A. store in Kinmount this week, in which a large amount of cigarettes were stolen.

Mr. and Mrs. Hyams are staying at their new home on East Wilson again this weekend. It shouldn't be too long now before they're in Kinmount to stay.

"Thankyou" to Marg Michel for being thoughtful enough to bring mom to Kinmount on Friday night.

I had a very nice visit with Helen and Alex Graham in Norland on Friday and then went on to Lindsay for a few hours.

If you'd like to try a treat for breakfast, try these: Cinnamon Puffs or glorified muffins: 1 1/2 cups sifted flour, 1/2 tsp. double acting baking powder, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/2 cup shortening, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1 tsp. orange extract, 1/2 cup milk. Coating: 6 tbsp. melted butter or margarine, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 tsp. ground cinnamon. Method: Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Mix thoroughly the shortening, 1/2 cup sugar, egg and orange extract. Add flour mixture alternately with milk to shortening mixture; stir until smooth. Pour into 12 well-greased Pyrex custard cups, filling them about half full. Bake until golden brown. Cool in the cups for about five minutes, so the tender cinnamon puffs will not break apart when handled. Remove and roll in melted butter, then in mixture of 1/2 cup sugar and cinnamon. Serve hot.

We've been busy putting in a garden that seems to keep freezing but we live in hopes. Don't waste time in looking back, you may not see what's ahead!

Well - so what if I made that up - my column's short this week and I had to write something, didn't I? Call me at 488-2399 and above all - have a happy day.

Trent Severn News

This spring, the Trent-Severn Waterway will be giving orientation presentations to the Huronia and Central Ontario tourist guide and information kiosk programs.

A slide presentation takes the summer staff, who will be working in these two major tourism areas, along the route of the Trent-Severn. Waterway staff discuss fees, hours of operation, services, areas of use and enjoyment along Canada's foremost vacation waterway.

Fees and hours of operation are useful in answering the boaters questions. But more important, tourist information guides can explain to road travellers the many points of interest to enjoy along the waterway. In fact, by far the largest users of the Trent-Severn are road and foot visitors. Together with boaters, the Trent-Severn has an annual user base of 1.2 million.

Strawberry Time Again

It's strawberry season again.

The first fruit crop in Ontario last year, is one of the most delicious - strawberries. The strawberry growers in Victoria County expect the first fruit to be available between June 18th to 21st. From then until mid July there should be an abundant supply of berries in this area.

Strawberries are the most popular "Pick-Your-Own" crop in Ontario. All the large growers in Victoria County operate on a pick-your-own basis. Over 50 acres of berries are in production here this year.

Several different varieties of strawberries are grown in the area. All of them are excellent for eating fresh, freezing or preserving.

The Redcoat variety is a traditional favourite. Veestar is a newer dark red variety, which tends to retain more colour after freezing. Some other varieties are later maturing, so help to extend the strawberry season.

There are six Pick-Your-Own strawberry patches in Victoria County of which we are aware.

Kent's are located on Highway #35 - 2 miles south of Highway #7. They will have berries for the first time this year, with a three acre patch of Redcoat, Veestar and Guardian varieties.

Poder's have seven acres of berries on the River Road, off Highway #35 south of Lindsay. Redcoat and Veestar are their main varieties. Mrs. Poder assured us they haven't used any pesticides on their berries.

Robertson 1867 Farm has the largest operation with over 20 acres of strawberries. Veestar, Vibrant and Bounty are their main varieties. The Robertson farm is located on the Scotch Line, south of Highway #36 between Bobcaygeon and Dunsford.

Sebright Gardens are operated by D'Arcy Elson on Highway #503, about two miles east of Sebright. Redcoat and Veestar are the main varieties in their 12 acre berry patch. Elson's sell their berries by weight, so any kind of container is acceptable.

Valencia Gardens are just north of the village of Valencia - southeast of Little Britain. Harry Puusma has five acres with Redcoat, Veestar and Vesper as their main varieties.

Zimmerman's have four acres of Redcoat berries in production this year. They are located on the Sixth Concession of Mariposa Township, about 3 1/2 miles west of the Oakwood to Little Britain County Road.

All the growers ask that you bring your own containers, however, most have a small supply of baskets which they will sell you if necessary. The standard container for pick-your-own is a 6-quart basket. Most growers have a basic price for a level basket, and a higher price for a "jumbo" or heaped full basket.

Don't forget that the weather can seriously affect strawberry production, and the grower has no control over this. If it's too cold, or too dry, or too wet, the berries might not be as large, or ripen as quickly as you expect. As a result it is possible for a grower to have to close up for a day or two until more berries ripen.

Also remember that a strawberry patch is not a playground for children and pets. Leave them home, rather than cause problems.

The main advantage to picking your own berries, is that you can eat them or freeze them or preserve them, the same day they are picked. That's when you get the peak of quality and flavour. If you're picking for freezing or processing, plan your program so you can complete the whole operation the same day you pick the berries. Picnic coolers can help keep the berries fresh during the trip home. Don't forget strawberries are fragile, so be very careful not to crush the berries in whatever container you choose.

So enjoy some locally grown strawberries, both now during their season and during the months ahead from your freezer or jars.

Seniors group gets $8,702 grant

Federal Health and Welfare Minister Monique Bégin has approved a New Horizons grant of $8,702 for a group of Haliburton area seniors.

Haliburton County Home Support Services will use the money to conduct a survey to identify the particular needs of seniors throughout the county.

New Horizons is a federal government program that offers grants to groups of retired people. The program encourages community involvement to reduce retirement inactivity. The focus is on meeting local needs as seen by senior citizens.

ball game on the Snowdon diamond. Marg Arnold rove out a home run, thus helping the Gooderham ladies to win with a score of 27 - 24. On Thursday the Stompers played a return game at Gooderham. It was a very close game with the local girls losing 16 - 15. The score indicates how exciting was the game which could have been won by either team. The next home game will be played at Gooderham on Wednesday night, June 18, instead of the usual Thursday night. Here Gooderham will meet Andy's Angels of Irondale. Come out and support the teams and enjoy a good evening of sport. It would be appreciated if some sports enthusiasts would become involved as coach or umpire. Sandra and Dale Dovell and Michelle, accompanied by Maggie and Ross Haywood, went to Niagara Falls, N.Y. over the weekend to hear Jimmy Swaggart who is conducting evangelistic services there.

Mrs. Mae Pickens and her daughter, Vaneita, spent last week in Whitby and Oshawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Angus Cameron of Norland called on Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Barr last week.

Wilberforce News

by Winnie Schofield

The bird population seems to be thriving judging by the number of trills and melodic notes heard through the day. The robin is the early bird beginning his salute to the day about 4:30 a.m. while one of the last cries of the evening is that of the killdeer with their frantic warning to their offspring to keep them clear of the roadway, of cats and other dangers. For years the killdeer have nested in the mill yard in spite of it being the busiest place in town at this time of the year. Now is the time for piling logs and leveling ground. On some occasions the men have been known to hold up on a job until a nest of killdeer were safely hatched. Wonder what happened to the Whip-poor-wills we used to hear in the evenings? They have not been around for a couple of years. It is a miracle that anything survives the amount of pesticides used on flowers, vegetables and lawns. Every growing thing seems to need its dose of poison.

The Wilberforce Elementary school was pleased to introduce these young pupils to the classroom they will be using in September. Introducing the 1980 Kindergarten class we have Michelle Anderson, Brenda Blackburn, Julie Bowen, Matthew Brooking, Christopher Crane, Shannon Deterling, Sherri Lynn Graham, Shawn Huddler, Sherri-Lynn Huddler, Tammy Lee, Farron Madill, William Shatraw, Lisa Sutherland, and Stuart Thomson. Good luck to these honour students of the nineties.

About a mile east of Wilberforce past Pine Drive, Eva Linkert operates a gift shop with a fine variety of hand-crafted items made by local people. For the enjoyment of her many customers Eva is adding an old-fashioned soda fountain with glass topped tables and wrought iron chairs. Here you may order up your favourite sundae or ice cream soda, and also one of those once popular double header ice cream cones. Linkert's bakery which it is expected will move to Haliburton as soon as their new facilities are ready, will continue to supply their renowned tasty, baked products to this area, some of which may be purchased at a special counter in the gift shop.

There will be a book exchange in the library this week. This will be the last exchange until fall. Under the present admirable exchange system the county library office sends 200 books to each of its 10 county library branches providing good circulation and makes available also, through book requests, most of the books in print today.

Wednesday, June 11, 1980 was a memorable day for John and Shelley Welsh when they welcomed a baby boy into their family. Daniel Joseph Lorne Welsh weighed in at 7 lbs. 12 ozs. (wonder what that would be in metric measurements?). This important event marked the arrival of the first grandson for the Welsh family. Pat and Brenda Leddy are the proud grandparents who live in Bowmanville, while Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Welsh of Wilberforce represent the Welsh grandparents. Congratulations to all.

Sorry to end this write-up with bad news that due to vandalism and theft of equipment the car wash will be closed indefinitely. This was a good service much appreciated by many. We are sorry to see it closed down. Our sympathy goes out to the Matthews who invested in the business and worked to provide for the needs of the public but were thwarted by this outrageous behaviour. We want to encourage small businesses in the area but there is little incentive when under constant threat of goon attacks.

Dorset News

by Phyllis Briscoe

"An idea for an invention for dieters; a refrigerator that weighs you every time you open the door. Or the Chinese reducing method; eat all you want but use only one chopstick."

The Dorset Senior Club wound up the season with a pot luck supper last Wednesday at the Centre with nearly 40 attending. The extension of the original building added a great deal to the enjoyment of the occasion. Having been crowded into such cramped quarters for so long it was indeed pleasant to be able to spread out and have room to move around. The meal was delicious and there was plenty of it and films were shown after the meal. During the evening the founding president, Mrs. Lorraine Weatherell was presented with a past president pin by President Don Little. Mrs. Weatherell responded with words of thanks and appreciation for help she had received. Lorraine was responsible for conceiving the idea of a senior club and did all the ground work for getting it started. She was assisted by her husband Bas and Mrs. Grace Munro, who was her secretary. Many, many hours of hard work and worry went into getting the show on the road and Lorraine may well be proud of the results of her efforts. Regarding the new addition to the building, the interior is to be finished by the club members and will be started shortly, as soon as the electrical work is finished.

We send get well wishes to Arnold McEachern who is a patient in Huntsville hospital. Last Friday evening the annual mother and daughter Brownie, Guide, Pathfinder and Ranger banquet was held at the community centre. A smorgasbord was served by the L.A. ladies and was enjoyed by mothers and daughters alike. Four guides were presented with various badges for their year's work. Badge recipients were Terry Johnson, Cairie Baird, Jennifer Morris and Patricia Brooks. Pathfinders who received badges and service stars were Jackie Moulard, Kelly Currow, Linda Hall and Heather MacGregor. The Rangers held an enrolment ceremony for Teresa Eaton, and service stars were received by Kathy Lewis, Kathy McLennan, Linda Clark, Patricia Holmes, Christine Fuller and Teresa Eaton. A special presentation was made by Mrs. Barbara Clark to her daughter Linda. Linda had earned her All Round Cord and was very proud and pleased to have it pinned on by her mother. The evening was rounded out by a rousing campfire, during which the Brownies presented a delightful play, the Pathfinders serenaded everyone with their own special rendition of "Old MacDonald Had A Farm", and the Guides entertained with a song. The girls and their mothers would like to express their thanks to the L.A. ladies for this much enjoyed finale to a busy guiding year.

On Saturday, June 7 the Dorset Lions club held their annual Charter Night celebration at Lumina Lodge. After a sumptuous buffet there was dancing to the music of "Scotch on the Rocks" formerly known as Martin and McKay. The guest speaker was the district governor, Arnold Linssen.

There is still lots of work to be done at Camp Dorset and every weekend is a working one. So if you have some time and energy to donate, your help would be greatly appreciated.

Chatting with Irene

by Irene Moore

Last Friday was the 13th; the only one we have this year. It was a lovely day and enjoyed by all, I hope. The weekend made up for it at our place. By the time we get our bathroom fixed up, it should last us for the rest of our lives! Why does everything go wrong all at once? I was talking to a friend and the same thing happened at their place last week! I guess things wear out as fast or faster than people! Oh well, all's well that ends well, isn't it?

Grant Porter came home from Victoria, B.C. several weeks ago and brought his fiancée Irene Davis to meet his family. Grant says he is out of the armed forces but knows what he wants to become and we wish him well; but if need be he can still go back to the armed forces, for several months he has that option.

By the way if you haven't been to the Minden Coin Laundry lately but plan to go soon, be sure you have lots of quarters for each washing machine is now 75 cents a load.

Mrs. Ray Rivers and sons of Downsview visited with Mrs. Arnold Coulter over the weekend.

The Minden library usually has good luck getting all their books back but at present one of their "Encyclopedia Britannica" is missing. It is "no. 15" and they hope all their readers who take these books out will check carefully and if you do find it just drop it in the book drop. No questions asked and no fine; for they just want the book back.

because separate copies cannot be bought and as they are building a new library, a new set of encyclopedia cannot be afforded. Please check carefully as this is a large book and not easily lost.

If you should find any other books belonging to the library just drop them in the book drop. Don't forget it is "no. 15".

Mrs. Florence Booth of Oakville has been visiting with her family in the village. The best cure for the body is to quiet the mind.

Warrant officer Dennis Moore has completed his course at Base Borden and has returned home to Victoria, B.C. He spent some time with his parents last week and Friday evening all gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bird for a farewell barbeque. Warrant officer Moore will be on the HMCS Yukon after the middle of July, and sure we are proud of him. He is no. 2 son and making a career in Navy same as no. 1 son but no. 2 is in Pacific Fleet and no. 1 in Atlantic Fleet and will be home this week from N.A.T.O. maneuvers in the Mediterranean. We are very proud of both sons, as I'm sure all parents are proud of forces families.

Last Friday a committee approached the Minister of Culture and Recreation regarding the new library-culture centre and arrived home very satisfied with the reception they received. It has been a long haul but all seems to be upward bound now.

Coboconk News

by Shiela Lake

Sorry to hear Scott Robertson was admitted to hospital (via ambulance) to Ross Memorial Hospital. A card would cheer Scott, known for years as the Coboconk Feed Mill operator. Our best wishes Scott for a speedy recovery.

This morning with the warmer weather back again, water sports enthusiasts will yearn to be out there enjoying the moist air from the water. Canoe travelling is practical and fun. However, you must realize that you must treat a canoe with respect. Starting Thursday, June 19 from 7 to 9 p.m. there will be free canoe lessons given Lorne Weaver, Garnet Weaver and Roy Healey. These fellows are experienced canoe racers, winning prizes all the time for their skill. They are members of the Ontario Marathon Canoe Association and they invite you, Young or old, to come out to the Coboconk Community Centre Park on Thursday evening and learn a sport that will help you appreciate our great Kewartha lakes and the lovely nature of our lovely province.

Softball enthusiasts have been enjoying softball these lovely evenings over in the newly improved park, the driveway beside the Building Supply Centre, just on the northerly outskirts of town. Drop in and cheer our local players and have some fun.

Mr. and Mrs. Rober Austen and family of Woodville visited with the Harry Austens during the weekend.

This Friday afternoon June 20 there will be another shopping bag sale "upstairs" at St. Paul's parish hall. Time 2 - 4 p.m.

With summer close at hand try a "Patriotic Potato Salad" - 4 cups diced cooked potatoes; 1/2 cup finely chopped celery; 1/4 cup chopped onion;

1 (2 oz.) jar pimiento, drained and diced; 1 can (12 oz.) tender sweet peas, drained; 1 cup mayonnaise; 2 tsp. prepared mustard; 2 tsp. milk; 1 tsp. salt; 1/4 tsp. pepper; 1/4 tsp. paprika. Combine potatoes, celery, onions, pimiento, and peas. Blend remaining ingredients together until smooth. Pour over potato mixture and stir gently to coat evenly. Cover and chill. Serves 6 - 8.
The Peter Davidsons of Toronto visited with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Davidson on Sunday.

One thing we've given our children is more ways to get in trouble than we had. Mr. Glenn Stamp of Oshawa spent the weekend in the village.

Have you put any stitches in the rug at Mae's Country Mart yet? It is still there and the stitches help toward the furnishings inside the new library. If you don't see the rug, ask about it for it is starting to shape up into a lovely rug, which will be raffled off after it is completed and a stitch is only 25 cents.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Brydson and family of Bracebridge spent the weekend at their cottage.

Have you seen the lovely quilt in the window of Cox's Apparel? It will be raffled off by the A.C.W. on July 19 and tickets are on sale now, so take a look at it then buy a ticket for it is lovely and who knows, you might win it.

You know our economy is based upon people wanting more - their happiness based on wanting less!

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brownridge of Scarborough spent a few days at their cottage on the weekend.

Mr. Gerald Coulter of Toronto spent the weekend with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Angus Coulter.

After the frost Sunday night, of which I knew nothing, I am beginning to wish St. Helens had never erupted at the start. It seems to have disrupted the weather all over. Of course, the men say sure it has a woman's name! Some day they will start naming volcanoes, tornadoes, etc. by men's names then they will leave the women alone!

Adios and take care now.

Telephone rates to increase

Basic monthly telephone charges will increase by 45 cents a month in the Haliburton and West Guilford exchanges on July 7, Bill Stephenson, local Bell manager said Monday.

Stephenson said growth in the Haliburton and West Guilford local calling areas has pushed the phone-number total above the highest total allowed for present rates.

Private line resident service will increase by 45 cents a month to $6. An individual business line will go up from the present $12.30 to $14.05 a month.

All customers have been notified of the increase by an insert in their current bill. Stephenson stressed that

All boards to be responsible for special ed.

Education minister Bette Stephenson last week introduced a bill in the Legislature that will make school boards responsible for providing special education programs and services for all exceptional children of school age. This includes children with intellectual, communication, physical and behavioural exceptionalities and those with multi-handicaps.

The program will start this year as a pilot project involving 19 school boards. The pilot project will determine the most appropriate planning approaches which will then be used by all boards, assisted by teams from the Ministry, to fully implement Special Education programs by 1985. Phasing-in of the program to all boards will begin in September of 1981.

Dr. Stephenson said the Ministry will increase grants for new special education programs and services by $75 million by 1984-85, assuring school boards of continuing financial support for such programs. The province will spend an additional $7.5 million in grants this year to speed payment to all boards involved in the provision of new programs and services. The Ministry will also spend $500,000 to provide direct assessment and professional development services to boards to assist them to implement special education programs. During the next four years, as the program is phased-in for all boards, Ontario will allocate an additional $67 million in support of special education programs and services.

"The government is fully committed to the program," said a Ministry spokesman. Cont'd page 20

Telephone rates to increase in July

The increase has no connection with the general rate increase application which Bell Canada filed February 19 with the Canadian Radio-Television and Telecommunications Commission, the company's federal regulatory agency.

Basic rates are tied directly to local calling area phone number totals, Stephenson said. A local calling area includes all exchanges that can be reached by a local call.

Bell is required to file with the CRTC a list of exchanges whose local call phone-number totals have exceeded the upper limit of their rate group.

The totals have to exceed the upper limits allowed by at least five percent before a rate increase like the current one is allowed.

The minister in turn agreed with all three recommendations and added in the case of the letter that it will be "further studied in relation to the nearly completed Regional Parks System Plan for Algonquin Region."

Ministry staff have been directed to carry out a study of the accommodation facilities in the park and even consider whether there should be any other types of such facilities provided.

This will also call for a more professional approach on the part of tourist operators in their dealings with travel agencies.
